Foreword

“Reflections” is, for Classical students, the memories of the year,
Memories of Administration,
Of those who lead, cajole, inspire, provide, because they care —
The teacher giving a demonstration,
His students perched on the desks;
The nurse listening to students’ problems —
She knows that headaches have many causes;
The smiling lunchroom corps, alert and ready
Before the noontime’s double-rush;
The counselor and the student, deep in a problem,
Walking in step through the corridor;
And Mr. Freme talking to students in his office —
Making them better men.

“Reflections” created by students is lasting and dear,
Couples loitering in the alcoves before the morning bell;
The Senate Tablet and the Bulletin Board which honor students;
The open locker revealing clothes, shoes, food, and books;
The patrol boy on duty, talking to his friends;
Or, in library and study hall, intent faces of students —
Becoming intellectual men.

“Reflections” of student activities is pleasant —
Dances fostering happy social bonds,
Committees for Proms and Class Book,
The clubs which satisfy and expand individual interests,
And playing field and court where skill and spirit thrive —
And students become fair men.

“Reflections” holds the past in memory and prophesies the days to come.

DR. M. MARCUS KILEY

The up to date outlook of education at Classical owes much to the personal efforts of Dr. M. Marcus Kiley, Deputy Superintendent of Schools in Springfield. Dr. Kiley, who has spent forty years in the Springfield public school system, served as a teacher of science, guidance counselor, assistant principal of Classical High School, assistant principal and principal of Technical High School, assistant superintendent in charge of secondary schools, and, finally, deputy superintendent.

His influence in science education has extended beyond the local school system; he has been a member of the Massachusetts State Advisory Committee on Science and Mathematics and the president of the American Technical Education Association. He often participates in workshops and conferences on science given by the federal government and such well-known organizations as Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Although his retirement will be a great loss to the school department, Classical High School hopes that the years ahead will be happy and active ones for Dr. Kiley.

MR. RAYMOND J. MONTAGNA, Principal

The Classical High School staff has made every effort to keep our curriculum at the growing edge of educational development and to foster an atmosphere conducive to effective learning. Teachers have given generously of their knowledge and experience to make students more keenly aware of our universe with all its marvels and promise. Counselors have encouraged the pursuit of a strong scholastic program to provide each student with the academic foundation upon which to build a more refined knowledge of the sciences and the humanities.

We in education are pleased to note the increased emphasis on the search for talent and the appropriate recognition accorded the scholar of high ability and advanced training. The rapid social and technological developments of recent years will further enhance the need for post high school study and specialization. This added stress on the discovery and nurturing of intellectual talent strengthens our belief that high academic achievement, zeal for learning, and respect for moral and spiritual values must continue to mirror the image of Classical's graduates.

Raymond J. Montagna

The quality of Classical scholarship

Mr. Comeau, Miss Corcoran, and Mrs. Ramos

MR. ARTHUR COMEAU

Classical students, who are used to sound and friendly counseling, find Mr. Comeau a great help in planning their future. A graduate of Fitchburg State Teachers' College, Boston University, and Springfield College, he was a teacher of science and mathematics before becoming a counselor. Mr. Comeau's outside interests include singing — he was once a professional — and reading.

MISS MARY CORCORAN

Miss Corcoran, who has just come to Classical, is a welcome addition to our counseling staff. She is a graduate of Westfield State College, Springfield College, Teachers' College of Columbia University, and Boston University. When she has leisure, she enjoys traveling and the theatre.

MRS. MARGARET RAMOS

Mrs. Ramos, a member of our able and conscientious counseling staff, is a graduate of Bates College and Columbia University. She is quite capable of discussing college problems with students, for she spent several years as the director of the counseling center at American International College before coming to Classical. Mrs. Ramos' hobbies include gardening, camping, and traveling.

MR. J. JOSEPH FREME

One of the most important members of the Classical High School faculty is the assistant principal, Mr. Freme. An alumnus of Ricker Junior College, Colby College, and Springfield College, he is responsible for maintaining the high standard of discipline for which Classical is known. His many other activities include approving the daily bulletin for publication, coordinating the P.T.S.A. executive council, coordinating the Carousel, and supervising the hearing and vision tests. Mr. Freme is always willing to help faculty members, like Mr. Jacobs, with their school problems.

reflects the excellence

Mrs. Barbara Cowan

Mrs. Marjorie McCurry

THE OFFICE STAFF

The administrative efficiency of Classical High School depends on its able office staff. Because of the complex business of running a school, each of our four secretaries has her own task. Mrs. Cowan, the principal clerk, processes transcripts for college applications. Mrs. McCurry is the counselors' secretary and often helps Mrs. Cowan. Mrs. Garvey is Mr. Montagna's secretary and Mrs. Sheehan keeps the attendance record and sells bus tickets. Outside school, each of the secretaries devotes much time to her family. Mrs. Cowan has two children and three grandchildren, Mrs. McCurry has three children, Mrs. Garvey has two children, and Mrs. Sheehan has two. This probably accounts for their understanding attitude toward the many students who seek their help every day.

Mrs. Mary Sheehan and Mrs. Catherine Garvey

of the many capable

MR. JOHN SHEA

Mr. Shea teaches a general auxiliary course, a form of vocational guidance for special students. A graduate of the University of Massachusetts, Westfield State College, and Springfield College, he finds this a satisfying and interesting teaching assignment.

MISS BARBARA SCANNELL

A graduate of the University of Massachusetts and Springfield College, Miss Scannell teaches a course in reading efficiency. This course, which is given two periods a day at Classical, reinforces reading skills. Miss Scannell also teaches at Mount Holyoke College and Technical High School. Here she gives some reading hints to Birgitte Madsen.

faculty members.

MISS MAUREEN MAHAR

Miss Mahar, a graduate of Mount Holyoke College, is the speech therapist at Classical. She has also done graduate work at the University of Michigan. Outside of school Miss Mahar enjoys sailing and is interested in politics.

MRS. ROSE BURNS

Mrs. Burns, our school nurse, has for many years given Springfield school children her kind attention. In addition to Classical Senior High School, Mrs. Burns serves Classical Junior High School. Here she gives Lenore Ellis some of her kind attention.

The English department responds to

Miss Sauer and Judy Burke discuss ways to improve compositions.

MISS CHRISTINE SAUER

Miss Sauer, an alumna of Classical, received both of her degrees at Columbia University. She is kept busy teaching English, reading efficiency, and advising Pierides, the Junior Class, and the annual Voice of Democracy contest. In her free time, she enjoys hooking rugs and swimming.

MISS ISABELLE BROWN

Classical is very fortunate to have an excellent library and a very capable librarian. Miss Isabelle Brown, a graduate of Mount Holyoke College and Syracuse University, has managed our library since it was founded four years ago. She devotes much time to augmenting our collection of five thousand volumes with books of interest to high school students.

Miss Brown shows David Howe, one of the library assistants, some methods of library procedure.

The English department assembles in the library for a meeting. Seated: Miss Mills, Miss Dickerman, Miss King, and Mrs. Morill. Standing: Mr. Black, Mr. Barton, Mr. Girr, and Mr. Donnelly.

MISS RUTH DICKERMAN

Miss Dickerman, a graduate of Mount Holyoke College and Springfield College, is the chairman of our excellent English department. In addition she devotes much time to the Girls' Patrol and to the advisory board of the National Honor Society. Reading and attending plays form her chief recreation.

MISS VIRGINIA MILLS

A graduate of Bates College and Trinity College in Hartford, Miss Mills finds time in her busy schedule to help with the script for Carousel. She is also the adviser to the Scribe, a publication edited by her 11h class. When she has leisure, Miss Mills enjoys attending plays.

MR. HENRY BLACK

Mr. Black, the adviser to the Classical Recorder, has attended the City College of New York, Boston University, Boston Teachers' College, Duke University, and the University of Chicago. His outside activities are quite varied and include participating in a small amateur orchestra, collecting recordings of classical music, reading, and swimming.

MRS. LILLIAN MORRILL

The achievement of a logical method of thinking forms the basis for Mrs. Morrill's English classes. A graduate of Emerson College and Boston University, she is an adviser to the senior class and the student handbook and is a member of the city-wide English curriculum committee. Although taking care of her house occupies much of her time, she also likes to travel.

MR. BERNARD DONNELLY

Mr. Donnelly, a graduate of Brown University and the University of Pennsylvania, is kept busy with his English and dramatics classes. He is also the director of the annual Classical Carousel. Outside of school his main interests include gardening, reading, and traveling when he has time.

MISS ALMEDA KING

A newcomer to Classical from Forest Park Junior High School, Miss King has already become involved in our annual Carousel production. Miss King attended Bridgewater State Teachers' College and Wesleyan University. In her spare time, she keeps busy with reading, attending plays, playing tennis, and keeping up with the latest sports cars.

MR. FRANCIS GIRR

A member of our important English department, Mr. Girr graduated from the University of Rhode Island and the University of Connecticut. He is an adviser to the senior class and the Senate. In his spare time, he likes oil painting and woodworking.

MR. HENRY BARTON

A graduate of Princeton University and the Harvard Graduate School of Education, Mr. Barton is a new teacher at Classical. He is quite busy as an adviser to the Senate, but also is the assistant director of the Carousel. In addition to his studies at Trinity College (Hartford), Mr. Barton maintains an interest in hunting.

Ability to type is increasingly important.

MRS. NORMA CONNIFF

Mrs. Conniff teaches English and typing at Classical. A graduate of the University of Buffalo, she is very interested in skiing and spends a great deal of time in the ski country. Here she shows Phyllis Judson some fine points of typing technique.

MISS DOROTHY PORTER

As students learn in Miss Porter's classes, typing is an important skill. Miss Porter, who attended Ohio Wesleyan University and Indiana University, is also the business adviser to the Blue and White.

A knowledge of Latin

MR. JAMES FLEMING

The adviser to the Latin Club, Mr. Fleming continues the Classical tradition of fine teaching in this rewarding subject. Mr. Fleming, who holds degrees from American International College and Our Lady of the Elms College, finds most of his outside time occupied by his two children but also enjoys fishing and golf.

MISS ELIZABETH DEAN

Miss Dean, who attended Classical High School, is also a graduate of Wellesley College and Boston University. In addition to stimulating regular classes in Latin 1, 2, and 3, Miss Dean often helps interested students like John Lyons after school. In her spare time, she enjoys traveling, reading, and bridge.

Dr. Miller and Dr. Fredrick try a tape on the console of the new language laboratory.

DR. EDNA FREDRICK

The chairman of our language department, Dr. Fredrick attended Mount Holyoke, Bryn Mawr, and the University of Paris. Although our new language laboratory takes much of her time, she is also the adviser to the William C. Hill Chapter of the National Honor Society.

DR. PHILIP MILLER

Dr. Miller, who teaches French and Hebrew, is a graduate of the College of the City of New York, the Jewish Theological Seminary, and the Teachers' Institute of the Jewish Theological Seminary. In addition to advising the Hebrew Club, Dr. Miller is an adviser to the junior class. The Kodimoh Synagogue and Hebrew Day School occupy most of his time outside of Classical.

MRS. MARTHA COBB

A teacher of Spanish and French, Mrs. Cobb studied at Howard University, Washington University, and also the Sorbonne. Although she spends much of her extra time in school advising the Spanish Club, she is also the chairman of the assembly committee. Outside school, she is active in church organizations and likes to play golf and bowl.

MISS MILDRED AUGER

Miss Auger, a teach of French and Spanish, is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College and Boston University and has also attended the University of Paris, Harvard University, and Middlebury College. This year she is in charge of the publicity for the school. In her leisure she enjoys golf, ballet, and gardening. Here she helps Donna DuBois with a French expression.

MRS. ERIKA CORBIN

Our German teacher, Mrs. Corbin, is a graduate of Smith College and Middlebury College. Much of her school time is devoted to the German Club and the International Relations Club. As recreation, she enjoys collecting records, hiking, and furniture refinishing.

MISS TERESA BOYLAN

Miss Boylan is an extremely active person. Here at Classical she is the adviser to the Blue and White and a teacher of English and Spanish. She enjoys traveling and this past summer toured Mexico and Canada. She also enjoys her flowers, her marionettes and her painting. Miss Boylan is a graduate of Trinity College, Washington, D.C. and Harvard University. Here Miss Boylan explains some modern poetry to Nina Makeew.

MISS IRENE ROUILLARD

A member of our very active modern language department, Miss Rouillard is quite busy with her French classes, including a special French home-room. She has attended Wellesley and Middlebury Colleges and in her spare time enjoys gardening and semi-classical music.

MR. DONALD LEGER

Mr. Leger, a newcomer to Classical, teaches French and Latin. He holds degrees from St. Michael's College and University of Massachusetts, with additional study at Emory University, Middlebury College and N.D.E.A. French Institute. His main outside interests are music, theater, tennis, and swimming. Mr. Leger has traveled abroad and has taught in France.

Social studies also helps the student

MRS. BARBARA BOWEN

In addition to teaching economics and American history, Mrs. Bowen is the busy adviser to our active student government. A graduate of Mount Holyoke and American International Colleges, she enjoys reading and sailing as hobbies.

MR. DANIEL BRESNAHAN

Mr. Bresnahan, the adviser to the Boys' Patrol, finds much of his extra time in school taken by this task. He teaches advanced placement U.S. history, regular U.S. history, and modern European history. His recreational interests include skiing, swimming, and waterskiing.

MR. GEORGE HARGREAVES

Mr. Hargreaves returned from the Central office this year to teach American history and government. A graduate of the University of Maine, LaSalle University, Springfield College, and the United States Army War College, Mr. Hargreaves finds time to be the sponsor of the History Club in addition to his duties as commandant of the Springfield Army Reserve School.

MR. WILLIAM YOUNG

The chairman of our social studies department, Mr. Young, is a graduate of Syracuse, Boston College, Brandeis University, the University of Michigan and the University of Chicago. After school in the spring, one can find Mr. Young outside coaching the baseball team or helping his Archaeology Club excavate for Indian remains. Besides teaching history at Classical, Mr. Young is the consultant on archaeology and anthropology for the Springfield Science Museum.

MISS MARY MORRIS

Miss Morris, who teaches English and history, is a graduate of Westfield State College and Yale University. She has also taken additional courses at the University of Connecticut. Miss Morris says she has little time to pursue a specific hobby, but enjoys music, art, and stamp-collecting.

MR. MILTON CORBIN

Our problems of democracy teacher, Mr. Corbin is a graduate of Springfield College and Teachers College, Columbia University. Because of his interest in social studies, he spends much of his time planning trips for his classes and finding lecturers for our International Relations Club. Mr. Corbin, who was once a member of the Springfield College track team, still enjoys hiking as a favorite pastime. Mr. Corbin is helping Scott Atwater with an American history assignment.

MR. HENRY BENJAMIN

Mr. Benjamin, a newcomer to our biology department, is a graduate of Classical High School and American International College. Besides teaching biology and general mathematics, he helps with the audio-visual aids and the locker keys. Although Mr. Benjamin devotes much time to teaching at American International College, he finds time to enjoy classical music and painting.

MR. JAMES O'DONNELL

Mr. O'Donnell, who has attended Holy Cross College, University of Massachusetts, Syracuse University, and Cornell University, this year teaches a special course in B.S.C.S. Blue Version Biology. Besides advising the Biology Club, he is active in professional organizations. For relaxation, he enjoys reading, traveling, and gardening.

MISS LOIS CURTIS

Miss Curtis, who returned this year to the Classical teaching staff, is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College, University of New Hampshire, University of Maine, and Boston University. Here at Classical, besides teaching biology, her other main duty is advising the freshman class. When she has leisure, Miss Curtis enjoys crafts, especially metal working, and cooking.

MISS EILEEN FITZGERALD

A teacher of biology and physiology, Miss Fitzgerald is a graduate of Connecticut College and Mount Holyoke College. She is a faculty representative to the P.T.S.A. at Classical, and keeps our school plant room blooming even during our cold New England winters.

MRS. BEULAH TOWNE

Mrs. Towne graduated cum laude from Middlebury College, where she received both her bachelor's and master's degrees. Mrs. Towne, who has taught in New York, teaches chemistry at Classical. Outside of school she devotes most of her time to her three daughters.

MR. FRANCIS M. LAMOUREUX

Mr. Lamoureux, who teaches chemistry here at Classical, is a graduate of American International College, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, and Brown University. He is also busy every year with the distribution of lockers and keys. Outside of school, Mr. Lamoureux enjoys archery and chamber music.

MR. H. HOWARD LYNCH

The chairman of our science department, Mr. Lynch, is an alumnus of Harvard College, Harvard Graduate School of Education, Boston University, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. In his spare moments in school, he assists the Student Treasury and Carousel. When Mr. Lynch finds leisure, he attends concerts and goes on camping trips.

MR. STANLEY MULAK

Mr. Mulak, who is a physics teacher at Classical, has taught a variety of subjects in former years, including algebra and chemistry. He attended American International College, received a master's degree from Yale University, and received the equivalent of another master's degree from Springfield College. Outside of school, Mr. Mulak is active in many civic affairs. At present, he is chairman of the school board in Somers, Connecticut. He also enjoys hunting, fishing, woodworking, and painting.

Mr. Mulak and Lynn Hennessey go over an experiment

MRS. JULIA BALE

Mrs. Bale, a graduate of Hunter College and Columbia University, was busy this past summer studying modern math at the Math Institute of the University of Maine. When time permits, Mrs. Bale enjoys gardening and hiking.

MR. ARMEN JERMAKIAN

Mrs. Jermakian, a graduate of Rensselaer, University of Michigan, University of Massachusetts, and University of the State of New York, teaches geometry and advanced algebra. Outside of his classes he assumes the duties of junior class adviser, golf coach, bowling coach, Benevolent and Protective Association representative, and director of the Teachers' Credit Union. In his spare time, he likes golf, bowling, and music.

MRS. JULIA BEVERLEY

Mrs. Beverley, who teaches geometry and algebra, is a graduate of Wellesley College and Columbia University. At Classical she is an adviser to the freshmen class, the adviser to the Red Cross, and a member of the assembly committee. When she can find any spare time, she enjoys traveling, reading, and classical music.

MR. GEORGE ANDREWES

Mr. George Andrewes, the chairman of our mathematics department, has attended Yale and the University of Massachusetts and several colleges in England. Mr. Andrewes is an assistant treasurer of the Student Treasury, the adviser to our school's "Mathletes" and, is also, the chairman of the Benevolent and Protective Society, which is comprised of the whole Classical staff. For recreation, he enjoys hiking, mountain climbing, skiing, and traveling.

MR. ROBERT STEVENS

A stimulating teacher of algebra and geometry, Mr. Stevens has attended Fitchburg State College, American International College, and Brown University. He advises the Ski Club and the senior class, and for recreation enjoys camping, golf and tennis.

MR. WALTER SZETELA

Mr. Szetela, who is showing Richard Marcuson and James O'Malley, the new computer at Classical, teaches S.M.S.G. mathematics, math 4, and math 4s. He spends much of his school time as the adviser to the Audio-Visual Aids Crew and as an adviser to the freshman class; Mr. Szetela, a graduate of the University of Massachusetts and the University of Michigan enjoys playing tennis.

MR. ROBERT WESSMAN

Mr. Wessman, who teaches all three classes in math is a graduate of Springfield Jr. College, Brown University and Springfield College. He has also attended special courses at Holy Cross and Smith Colleges. Outside of school his interests range from wood-working and reading to classical music and fishing.

MRS. LILLIAN STREEN

Mrs. Streen, who teaches algebra and geometry, is an alumna of New York University and also attended Springfield College. In her spare time, she is active in the Mended Hearts Association.

Mr. Andrewes, Mrs. Streen, and Mr. Wessman talk over a recent marking-period.

MR. VINCENT O'KEEFFE

The band instructor of Classical High School, Mr. O'Keeffe, who is known for maintaining high musical standards, received his degrees from Boston University and Columbia University. Although most of his activities outside of school concern music, Mr. O'Keeffe is also active in amateur radio. Here, Mr. O'Keeffe and the band enjoy an informal rehearsal.

MR. ALFRED JACOBS

The excellence of the Classical High School program of academic achievement and cultural enrichment owes much of its success to Mr. Jacobs' music department. Mr. Jacobs, who studied with Carl Lamson and at Lowell State Teachers' College, teaches courses in choral music, music appreciation, and theory and harmony. Because of his interest in music, he has participated in such singing groups as the Handel-Haydn Society and the Pro Musica Society in Cambridge. Mr. Jacobs and the Madrigal Singers rehearse for a concert.

This art class sits in the shade near the Springfield Armory while it sketches the Masonic Temple across the street.

MRS. HELENA LARAMEE

Our art teacher, Mrs. Laramee, is a graduate of the Massachusetts College of Art, the University of Massachusetts, and Springfield College. In addition to her regular art classes, she is the adviser to the art club, the artistic adviser to the Carousel, Blue and White, and many other school functions. Mrs. Laramee's efforts have made the halls of Classical much brighter. Here, Mrs. Laramee is putting the finishing touches on a Christmas display.

and a well-developed physique

MR. PHILIP HART

A teacher of boys' physical education, Mr. Hart received his bachelor's and master's degrees from American International College and did graduate work at Springfield College. Outside of school, he is a basketball official and coaches the basketball team at the John H. Breck Company.

MRS. AUDREY C. DESROCHERS

A graduate of Sargent College of Boston University, Mrs. Desrochers is quite happy with her classes during her first year at Classical. Although taking care of her four children occupies most of Mrs. Desrochers' time, she also likes to knit and sew.

MRS. MIRIAM ANDREWES

Mrs. Andrewes, who is the adviser to the Cheerleaders and the Girls' Athletic Association, is a graduate of Boston University. Mrs. Andrewes has taught at other schools in Springfield, but says she enjoys teaching at Classical best. In her spare time, Mrs. Andrewes is an active member of the Appalachian Club and the Benevolent and Protective Society and enjoys gardening and hiking.

complete the education of the Classical student.

MR. JOSEPH GALLANT

Mr. Gallant, who just came to Classical this year, teaches boys' physical education. A graduate of Franklin College, University of Illinois, Ball State Teachers' College, and Springfield College, he coaches football, basketball, track, and wrestling. Aside from athletics, his favorite pastime is reading.

MR. DONALD VAUGHAN

Mr. Vaughan, a graduate of Springfield College, teaches drivers' education at Classical. Through his patient efforts with Classical's young drivers, Mr. Vaughan tries to develop good driving habits in them. Outside of school his favorite pastime is gardening. Here Mr. Vaughan is shown instructing Joyce Lichwala, Naomi Bloom, and Peter Cokkinias.

A great deal of credit goes to the people who keep Classical running.

The library aides help Miss Brown keep the library orderly. Here they are before starting on their day's work.

Row 1: Linda Carlson, Sherrie Johnson, Steven Block, Carole Michaels, Linda Bailey, Anna Ladue, Harriette Block, and Maxine Zimble; Row 2: Faye Kitchener, Sharon Traft, Susan Margeson, Jo-Ann Kramarz, Janet Preston, Mary Ellen Quirk, Naomi Scott, Roberta Finson, Sandra Rubbins, Donna Hutchsons, Janice Fleischner, Jean Scougall, Donna MacPhee, Diane Zamora, Jane McKenzie, and Claudette Smith.

The cashiers and helpers are an invaluable aid in the cafeteria. Here they are preparing for the onslaught of hungry Classicalites: Shirley Horowicz, Sue McCook, Linda Small, JoAnn Lussur, Gary Hawkins, Paula Stanton, Carol Bill, Linda Quintin, Dolores Bill, Doreen Gagnon, and Carol Hinkley.

The cooks at Classical are behind the scenes workers without whom school lunches would be impossible. Here they are preparing lunch: Katherine E. Garneau, Bernadette D. Cocchi, Mary O'Connor, Greta Sanderson, Hazel L. Paige, Susan Hemsworth, and Josephine Saracino.

The custodians keep Classical bright and shiny: Edward R. Maroney, Jr., Jeremiah J. Cahill, Robert N. Donovan, Thomas A. Dee, Thomas F. Donnelly, and Albert D. De Blois.

SUSAN ABBE

1026 Liberty Street

Sue, a theater enthusiast, has been most active at Classical as the Review Editor for the Recorder. She has also served Classical as a member of the Activities Committee and has assisted Miss Brown as a library aide. During her freshman year she served as sales manager for her Junior Achievement company. In college, Sue would like to major in English.

NANCY ANSARA

38 Upton Street

Nancy is a girl with an eye for fashion. Nan has been a two-year member of the choir, a typist for the Recorder, a member of Pierides, and a three-year member of I.R.C. Besides being an avid water-skiing fan, Nancy also enjoys listening to folk music and playing the piano. Nancy wants to go to college to prepare for a teaching career in a foreign country.

BEVERLY ABRAMS

80 Porter Lake Drive

Sparkling Bev Abrams has participated in activities inside and outside Classical. She has been a member of I.R.C. and a Student Treasury representative during her three years at Classical. Her outside interests include bowling, listening to "good" music, and horseback riding. After graduation, Bev hopes to pursue courses in the field of education.

JUDITH ANTHONY

55 West Alvord Street

One can always find Judy listening to folk music, especially to Peter Seeger and Joan Baez. At Classical, Judy has participated in the Christmas and spring concerts. She has been a student leader and a member of I.R.C. The invaluable experience which Judy has gained through working at the school library has been helpful to her in her job as page at the Forest Park library. Judy plans to become a teacher in high school.

JOAN ALLEN

13 Tyrone Street

A new face in the Classical halls is that of the ever-smiling Joan Allen. Although Joan has just come to Classical, she was very active at her former school, Agawam High School. There Joan participated in the Future Teachers' Club, the Personality Club, and the Junior Red Cross. To become an elementary school teacher is Joan's ambition.

ANDREA ARANOW

25 Maplewood Terrace

Andi, most active as the Feature Co-editor of the Recorder, has also been active in I.R.C., Pierides, the French Affiliations Club, and the Art Club. Andi enjoys reading, sewing, and traveling in her spare time. She would like to go to college, get a good liberal arts background, and probably major in English.

NANCY ALLEN

16 Capitol Road

Blonde, blue-eyed Nancy is best known for her work on Girls' Patrol and the Future Teachers' Club in which she has served as treasurer and program chairman. She was also a member of the Biology Club and I.R.C. for three years, an ST agent in her junior year, and a student leader in her senior year. In spite of her numerous activities, Nancy finds time to work part time as a page at the City Library. Nancy would like to major in history.

HANNAH ASCHER

137 Bellevue Avenue

An avid participant in the Junior Red Cross, Hannah is very interested in the medical profession. She has worked as a volunteer at Wesson Maternity Hospital and hopes to become a medical technician after leaving college. While at Classical Hannah has also been active in the French Affiliations Club and has participated in the Christmas and spring concerts. She says she's enjoyed the years she has been a student at Classical.

ELISSE ALLINSON

27 Terrace Lane

Attractive Elisse Allinson has participated in many activities at Classical. She has been a member of the Activities Committee, the Spanish Club, and the P.T.S.A. During her senior year she has been treasurer of I.R.C. Her favorite pastimes are swimming and horseback riding. Elisse hopes to enter the teaching profession.

ADRIENNE AUSTIN

711 Bradley Road

Rennie Austin, a versatile member of '63, has been a member of the Recorder, the Latin Club, Pierides, Carousel, and I.R.C. She has been secretary for two years of the Biology Club. Rennie enjoys a great variety of activities: music, reading, pen-pals, and drawing. Rennie has also won a letter of commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Program. Rennie plans to attend college and major in the Classics or English.

BEVERLY BALLOU

128 Aldrew Terrace

Bev, a cheerful addition to the senior class, participates in several activities. In school, she has been a Red Cross Representative, an artist for the Scribe, a student leader, and a member of I.R.C. After school hours, Bev is a "green" girl at the Wesson Memorial Hospital. After Bev graduates from college, she would like to be a secretary.

DIAN BERTRAND

35 Verge Street

Dian has certainly kept herself busy during her three years at Classical. She has been active in I.R.C. for three years and has participated in the Future Teachers' Club. When not working hard at her studies, she is working as a volunteer for the Red Cross at the Springfield Hospital. In her spare time, she enjoys going to the new spectacular movies, traveling around New England, and working in Junior Achievement. Her plans for the future include working with children.

ROBERT BASSELL

110 Draper Street

Bob's activities have been varied. He played J.V. soccer in his freshman year and has been on the bowling team all three years, having been captain during his senior year. He studies the clarinet and has displayed his skills by playing in the school band during his freshman and senior years. In his junior year, he received third prize at the Classical Science Fair. His plans for the future include college.

MAUREEN BIGELOW

424 Carew Street

Maureen has been a prominent member of the Student Government for the past three years, and during her senior year has served as president. During her junior year she was president of the Pep Squad and the Junior Red Cross. She has been in the Inter-High Junior Red Cross Council as secretary and volunteer chairman. Maureen is also Financial Manager of the Recorder. "Moe" plans to become a member of the nursing profession.

EVAN BELLIN

241 Gillette Avenue

Evan has taken part in numerous Classical activities. He has been a member of the Biology Club, the National Honor Society, and the Senate, participating in the Senate Tablet Debate. He has served as treasurer of the Hebrew Club. In June 1962, he won the Golden Ayin. After winning honorable mention at the school science fair, he was chosen to represent Classical at the Western Mass. Science Fair. Evan plans on a pre-medical course.

DAVID BISSON

37 Brunswick Street

Jovial Dave Bisson has a wide variety of interests. He has been a member of the Latin Club. He finds an outlet for his love of science by participating in the Biology Club here at Classical, and experimenting with his garden. He plans to follow up this hobby by studying agriculture in college. He also enjoys playing the accordion and listening to his "Classical" record collection.

LAWRENCE BEMBRY

151 Ambrose Street

An important member of the soccer team for the past three years, Larry has been active on the basketball and track teams. When he is not participating in sports, Larry is busy being one of the audio-visual aides here at Classical High School. Future plans include a career in the Armed Forces.

DAVID BLACK

33 Beechwood Avenue

David's main interest is the theater. He held the comic lead in Carousel in 1962. David is also an avid reader and an excellent writer; he wrote the script of Carousel in 1962, and won honorable mention twice in the NEATE Poetry Contest. Dave has been a member of the Senate, the Boys' Chorus, Madrigal, and the Recorder. He plans to attend a liberal arts college.

STEPHEN BERNSTEIN

135 Dayton Street

In his junior year Stephen was a star salesman for Carousel. One of his favorite subjects has been physics. As he says, "I enjoyed physics very much because it helped me to understand more clearly the world of which I am a part." Majoring in some form of automobiles, along with owning a sports car, is his "current dream."

ROGER BLACKMER

79 Bassing Street

At Classical Roger has been active in three areas: music, art, and science. Roger, who seems quiet to most of us, makes quite a bit of music playing both the piccolo and the flute in the band. For three years he has held the first flute position. He has also been active in the Art Club activities. He has been a member of the Biology Club since his freshman year.

HARRIETTE BLOCK

73 Groveland Street

Fun loving Harrie Block has been an active member of her class for the past three years. She has participated in the Spanish Club, I.R.C., Carousel, and the Future Teachers' Club. Outside of school, her favorite pastimes are bowling and drawing. She plans to go to college to become a teacher. She would like to teach high school Spanish.

JOHN BRECK

103 Garfield Street

John Breck is an enthusiastic sportsman. Outside of school he enjoys hunting and fishing. Here at Classical, he has been a member of I.R.C. and the Spanish Club. He enjoys the study of languages and plans to continue his study of Spanish perhaps at one of the colleges in Mexico.

NAOMI BLOOM

29 Perkins Street

Naomi, a math and science enthusiast, has taken advantage of the Advanced Physics course. During her junior and senior years Naomi has been a member of the Blue and White staff and the National Honor Society. She has also been the recipient of a letter of commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Program. Naomi plans to be a nuclear physicist.

SANDRA BRISTOL

21 Riverview Street

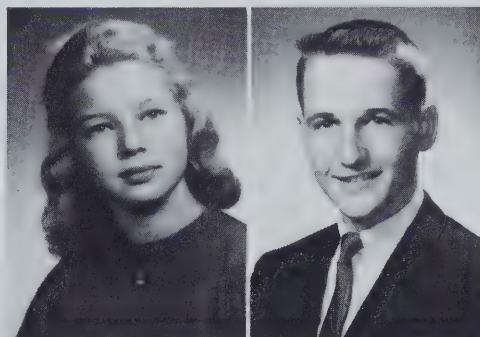

Sandy's pretty blonde hair won't be her only claim to fame. With her abilities in art, this vice-president of the Art Club is sure to succeed in whichever field of art she enters. Besides the Art Club, she has participated in I.R.C., the Carousel, the freshman fashion show, and Junior Achievement. In her spare time, Sandy enjoys swimming, tennis, and sketching.

SANDRA BOURGAULT

50 Fitzgerald Road

A blonde bundle of sunshine, Sandy has been a P.T.S.A. representative, a member of I.R.C., and has served as a substitute on the Girls' Patrol. During her freshman year she participated in Carousel. Her favorite pastimes are bowling and traveling. Sandy has her hopes set on majoring in education.

DOUGLAS BROWN

100 Embassy Road

Doug, an active member of Boys' Patrol, can usually be found on post or merely roaming through our hallowed halls. Doug's activities also include membership in I.R.C., and Junior Achievement. A sports fan, Doug especially enjoys baseball. Doug's future plans include college and a career in engineering.

JAMES BOUSQUET

135 Rosewell Avenue

As well as being one of the conscientious members of our Boys' Patrol for two years, Jimmy has kept busy with a great many of Classical sports activities. He enjoys all sports, particularly baseball, and he has been a three-year member of our baseball and basketball teams. He also plays baseball and softball outside of school. Jimmy holds a part-time job as a school custodian, while managing to obtain honor roll grades. He plans to attend college and major in math.

ALLEN BUDER

51 Kimberly Avenue

Sportsminded Allen has been a member of our football team for the last two years as well as being a three year member of the tennis team. Outside of school Allen enjoys besides these two sports swimming, reading, and listening to music. He also enjoys writing and uses this talent as a writer for the Recorder. Allen has proven his scholastic ability by receiving a letter of commendation from the NMSQT. In future years, Allen would like to receive a law degree.

JAMES BOYLE

324 Forest Hills Road

Sportsminded Jim, a three year man of the swimming team, and also a member of the tennis team, greatly enjoys outdoor sports, especially fishing, camping, and canoeing trips. His real interest is scouting, and he plans to enter a college where he can continue this interest as well as pursue a course in forestry.

JOHN BULDRINI

1736 Carew Street

John's musical talent extends beyond the guitar and accordion. In addition to his skill in playing these instruments this future teen-age idol sings professionally "on and off." Other than listening to all the great pop singers, John enjoys dramatics, reading, and bowling. At Classical, he has belonged to I.R.C. John's plans for the future include a college education, and a career in singing.

ROBERT BULLIVANT

107 Winton Street

Bob has "managed" to make his three years here at Classical a success. He has been the manager of our track and soccer teams, and supplements these responsibilities with sportswriting for the Recorder and membership in the National Honor Society. He has also been the recipient of a letter of commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Program. Bob says that he feels he has received valuable preparation for college where he plans to major in business administration and minor in accounting.

KEVIN BURKE

166 Derryfield Avenue

Cheerful Kevin is known to everyone in the senior class. As a two year man on the football team, "Spanky" also finds time to participate in the Red Cross and I.R.C. Outside of school, this energetic boy can be found working at a grocery store or haunting the basketball courts. His plans for the future include a college education and probably a career in teaching.

MARGARET BURKE

230 Washington Boulevard

This pretty red-head has been a member of the Art Club, the Pep Squad, and I.R.C. Peggy has also been a Junior Red Cross Alternate and a member of Junior Achievement for three years. Her activities outside of Classical include swimming, skating, twisting, and bowling. Peggy's plans for the future include junior college and a career as an airline hostess.

ANDREW CANEVARI

18 Wolcott Street

Sports-minded Andy Canevari has an odd combination of interests outside Classical. His hobbies include fishing, hockey, baseball, football, basketball, reading, and numismatics. Here at school, he has participated in football. Andrew would like to become a member of the air force.

BRITT CARLSON

91 Oak Hollow Road

Blonde but not dizzy, Britt is not only one of the most popular math students in the school but she is also one of the best. Math being her favorite subject, she is taking the challenging 4S program to prepare her for her future plans to become a math teacher. She has proved her abilities by her activities as treasurer of Student Government. Britt also was elected treasurer during 1962 in Junior Achievement.

JOHN CARPENTER

55 Lindsay Road

Do we hear a tenor sax? It must be John Carpenter. John is a three-year member of the Swing Band which performs for Carousels. He also enjoys playing hockey at Classical. As for his hobbies, John likes to tinker with cars, collect records, and compose music. For his future plans, John would like to attend a pre-dental school.

JOSEPH CALCASOLA

60 Cornwall Street

Joe has been most active in the sports activities at Classical. Indeed, he was a great asset to the hockey and baseball teams for three years. Also at Classical he has belonged to Red Cross and I.R.C. His interests center around sports, especially bowling and archery. Joe would like to attend college.

LEE CASSANELLI

210 Marmon Street

Lee, a valuable asset to Classical, is now the captain of Boys' Patrol. As a member of the National Honor Society, Lee is not only popular, but also intelligent. Lee's activities outside of school include Junior Achievement and a part-time job at a near-by grocery store. During the week of the Exposition, he worked in the Youth Building. In college, Lee plans to major in history or foreign relations.

DANIEL CALLOWAY

101 Dimmick Street

Well-known to Classicalites for his flashing smile, Danny has been active in football, bowling, chorus, choir, the Rifle Club, and the Chess Club during the past three years. Outside of school, Danny has been a participant in Junior Achievement. Among his favorite activities are bowling, singing, and dancing. His future aspirations include college and a career in electronic engineering.

MARLENE CATRON

68 South Branch Parkway

A tall girl, Marlene is very active in all of the G.A.A. activities, her favorite being basketball. She also likes volleyball, badminton, tennis, swimming, and field hockey. A music enthusiast, she loves to dance and she owns a fine collection of old rhythm and blues records. Her plans for the future include a career in elementary education.

BRUCE CHANDLER
212 Westbrook Drive

Bruce, one of Classical's fine artists, has been most active in the Art Club and Madrigal. Having a career as a commercial artist planned for the future, he has certainly proved his talent by winning a gold key in the National Scholastic Art Awards Contest. Athletics-wise, Bruce has participated in varsity track and wrestling.

DONNA CIRILLO
701 Roosevelt Avenue

Donna has been a member of the Girls' Patrol, the I.R.C., and the Class Ring Committee. She has also served as an ST agent. She has been a two year member of the National Honor Society, and she was named winner of the Junior Executive Award in Junior Achievement. Donna's plans for the future are to enter college and major in science, preferably chemistry.

BARRY CHASE
140 Fort Pleasant Avenue

Doug has been president of the National Honor Society and Editor-in-chief of the Recorder. Doug has also been a member of Student Government for three years. Outside of school, he belongs to Junior Achievement, and enjoys bowling, golfing, and working in his home chemistry "lab." Doug plans to major in chemistry at a liberal arts college and then work as a research chemist.

LINDA CHESLER
22 Crown Street

Though small in stature, Linda certainly makes a worthy contribution to our class. When not participating in I.R.C. or the Spanish Club, Linda can usually be found working in a downtown law office or listening to her sizable record collection. She enjoys all types of music. A member of the "Scribe" staff in her junior year, Linda plans to attend college and study journalism.

JEFFREY CLARK
66 Massachusetts Avenue

Jeffrey has enjoyed participating in music activities during his three years at Classical. He has also been a two-year member of the Western Mass. District Chorus, and enjoys playing the piano. When not spending time in musical pursuits, Jeffrey has many hobbies, such as philately, numismatics, and magic. Next year, Jeffrey plans to attend college.

MARK CHESTER
172 Shaker Road
Longmeadow

An extremely active member of the class of '63, Mark has participated in soccer, basketball, swimming, track, golf, and on the Activities committee, the Boys' Patrol. He has been Ski Club treasurer. In the future, Mark plans to attend college and receive training in the field of business.

MARK CLARK
268 Pearl Street

Mark, an imaginative individual, has always shown a definite tendency towards the theatrical and musical arts. Because of his talent as a vocalist, he was chosen for the tenor section of the Western District Chorus. Mark's plans for the future are vague, but he has shown definite interest in science and entertainment.

PAUL CIARCIA
26 Broad Street

This sports-minded Classicalite has participated in varsity soccer for three years here. He also enjoys various other sports particularly baseball. However, sports activities don't take up all of Paul's time. After he graduates, Paul would like to prepare for a career in business administration.

ALAN COHEN
62 Firglade Drive

Alan Cohen has been an important member of Classical's successful tennis team during his junior and senior years. Also, during these two years he was a member of I.R.C. Al was an ST agent during his freshman year. Whenever he isn't busy studying or working for his father, Alan enjoys tennis and skating. In the future, Alan would like to attend college. When asked for his feelings about Classical, Alan replied, "I have found it very friendly."

EDWARD COHEN

9 Texal Drive

Edward Cohen's main interests lie in the field of science. A member of the Biology Club and the Chemistry Club for two years, Eddie enjoys any kind of work in chemistry, and says he would eventually like to make chemistry his career. At Classical, he has also been a member of I.R.C. and the Chess Club. In his spare time, Eddie enjoys listening to his shortwave radio.

SANDRA COHEN

101 Belvidere Street

Sandee's red hair has been a familiar sight around Classical during the past three years. She has been active in such organizations as the I.R.C., the Red Cross, and has kept busy as a Blue and White agent and a typist for the Recorder. A music fan, Sandee particularly enjoys the folk brand. Sandee plans on a junior college education with a major in nursing or medical stenography.

PETER COKKINIAS

36 Kimberley Avenue

If someone mentions music, he will be sure to find Peter playing his clarinet or sax in the dance band or Dixie band which Peter himself organized. Peter has served as band president. In March, 1962, he soloed twice with the Boston Symphony. Peter has also been a member of the Blue and White staff and during his junior year, he was president of the Latin Club.

EUGENE COPE

358 Page Boulevard

Gene, who likes to bowl, read, and play baseball in his spare time, has distinguished himself at Classical as a member of the National Honor Society. His favorite subjects, Advanced Physics and Math 4S, have helped to prepare him for future plans, which include attending a college in New England to prepare for a career in engineering.

JOANNE COPPOLA

39 Tacoma Street

Always cheerful, Joanne has participated in many Classical activities, including the French Club, the Latin Club, I.R.C., and the Pep Squad. During her senior year, she has been a student leader in the gym classes. Joanne has been on the Girls' Patrol. Outside of school, she has worked as a nurse's aide at the Wesson Maternity Hospital. Joanne hopes to attend college and become a math teacher.

RICHARD COTE

26 Brewster Street

Sports-minded Richard has taken an active part in Classical athletics. He has been a member of the football team, the baseball and basketball teams. Richard has enjoyed being a member of I.R.C., and the Boys' Patrol. Outside of school, he also plays hockey, skis, plays golf and appreciates good music. In the future, Richard plans to go to college and major in education.

JAMES COLLINS

31 Hartford Terrace

James Collins is the mystery man in the class of 1963. A transfer from another school in the city, James came to Classical in his senior year. His ambition is to prepare himself for a career in mechanical engineering.

KEVIN COYLE

70 Rochelle Street

Determined Kevin, still after that first 'bone part, is a three year member of the band, serving as quartermaster this year. He also participates actively in Junior Achievement, and has been production manager and president of his company. This year, he is president pro tem of the Achiever's Association. Kevin also designed the class of '63 banner.

JOHN COOPER

14 Cherryvale Avenue

John excels in both athletics and music. He has been on the hockey and soccer teams since his freshman year. John is well-known for being a "big booter" on the soccer team. In music, he participated actively in the Madrigal, the Choir and the Boys' Chorus. At the close of his junior year, John received an award from the Naval Academy "for Outstanding Achievements in Athletics and Academics."

ELAINE CUTLER

149 Bremen Street

Always laughing, Elaine Cutler adds her cheerful appearance to the class of 1963. During the past three years, her bubbling personality has been present in I.R.C., the Girls' Chorus, and other school activities. Her interests include singing off key, reading, and, of course, smiling. After graduation, Elaine plans to become a dental assistant.

CAROL ANN DAPONDE

59 Knox Street

At Classical, Carol has been active in the G.A.A. sponsored activities. Not only has she been an active member for three years, but she has also served as president and P.T.S.A. executive during her senior year. She has also served as a Red Cross representative in her freshman year, and as a Student Leader and substitute for Girls' Patrol during her senior year. Her future plans include college and a career in education.

CLEMENT DESCHENES

58 Balboa Drive

Clem, an avid golf fan, spends quite a bit of his spare time on the golf course caddying and playing golf. Besides golf, he participates in many other sports including hockey and baseball. Clem also enjoys listening to classical music. Clem has been a member of the basketball and baseball teams. He has been a lieutenant on the Boys' Patrol and a member of I.R.C. Clem's future plans include college.

CAROL DAVIDSON

199 Leyfred Terrace

Always gay, cheerful, and smiling, Carol Davidson is indeed an asset to the senior class. In her three years at Classical, Carol has participated in the I.R.C., the Future Teachers' Club, the G.A.A., and Carousel. Carol has not yet made up her mind on whether to enter a two-year business college or a four-year college. Carol's thoughts on Classical can be summed up as "it's a wonderful feeling to know that you are going to a good high school."

BONNIE DICKSON

111 Ashbrook Street

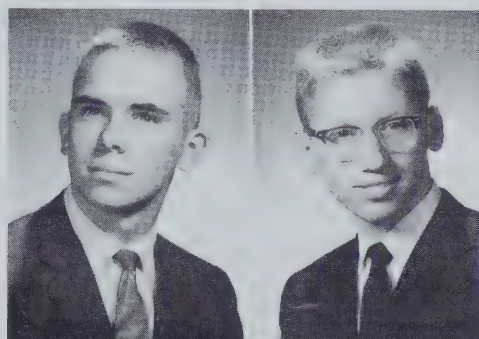

"Give me a C!" has been the familiar cry of popular Bonnie Dickson, one of Classical's peppy cheerleaders. Bonnie was also a member of I.R.C., Choir, the staff of the Scribe, and the French Affiliations Club. She has served as an ST alternate, a member of the Junior Prom Committee, a Student Leader, and a substitute on Girls' Patrol. Bonnie, who says that Classical is "the best school in the country, and it has the nicest kids," plans to attend college and enter the field of education.

PETER DeBARGER

92 Randolph Street

Peter has the distinction of being one of Classical's seven National Merit semi-finalists during this past year. He has also been active in the sports activities as a member of the swimming and crew teams for three years. Pete, who especially enjoys music, was a member of the choir for two years. Peter hopes to attend Cornell University and major in math.

RICHARD DOLGIN

245 Roosevelt Avenue

She plans to attend college, and prepare for a teaching career.

PAUL GLUSHIEN

25 Pineview Drive

To Paul, Classical "prepares the student for his place, a very high place, in society." During his three years here at Classical, Paul participated in track. In the future, Paul hopes to attend a junior college, and prepare himself for a career in some field of business administration.

IRIS GOODMAN

228 Acrebrook Road

Always friendly, Iris has been a popular addition to the senior class. She has been most active in the French Affiliations Club and in Junior Achievement, where she served as assistant secretary. Iris was also a three-year member of I.R.C., and she served as a Red Cross agent during her junior year. When she has spare time, she reads, bowls, and swims. She looks forward to a career in education.

JUDITH GOFF

6 Brookburn Street

Judy, with her charm and prettiness, has lent her services to many of Classical's activities. A member of G.A.A. and I.R.C., her main activities center around music. She was a member of the Classical stage band, and a member of Young People's Symphony. Judy will also be remembered for her pep and vigor as a substitute cheerleader. Judy hopes to attend college and major in elementary education.

DOROTHY GRADY

35 Ellendale Circle

Dottie, one of Classical's liveliest and most happy-go-lucky students, has participated in a variety of activities at Classical. She has been a member of I.R.C. and the Carousel for three years as well as the French Affiliations Club, Band, the Constitution committee, and G.A.A. where she served on the Council. Dottie has also served as a majorette, cheerleader, and Blue and White agent. After graduation, this cheerful miss plans a career in teaching.

WARREN GRAFF
23 Druid Hill Road

Warren's activities at Classical centered around sports. He was a member of the football team for two years, and a member of the track team for three years. His outside activities include such sports as skin diving, baseball, and football. After graduation, he plans to attend college where he will major in business administration.

BARNEY GREEN
25 Shawmut Street

Well-known to almost everyone at Classical, Barney likes being with people very much. He plans to go to college and prepare for a future in social work. As could be expected, Barney enjoys going to pep rallies and attending sports events, in which he also has participated actively when he was a member of the football team.

JAMES GRIFFIN
9 Leete Street

Jim Griffin, to whom Classical is "terrific", is a man of varied interests. As a member of the Boys' Chorus and Choir, he has lent his vocal talent to all of the musical functions. He has been a member of I.R.C., and an outstanding member of the tennis team. Jim displayed fine qualities of leadership, serving as vice-president of his Junior Achievement company for two years. He plans to attend college and major in math.

LESLIE GUBKIN
63 Eckington Street

Les Gubkin, because of his job after school and on Saturdays, has not had time to participate in many of the Classical activities. He has been, however, a member of I.R.C. His main interest centers around cars, and he enjoys working with them in his spare time. After graduation from Classical, Les would like to attend college.

RICHARD GUERTIN
19 Milton Street
Indian Orchard

Richard Guertin has been a member of I.R.C. during all three of his years at Classical and also he was a member of the Chess Club during his freshman year. Outside of Classical, Richard has been active in Junior Achievement. His plans for the future include a college education in preparation for a career in teaching.

COREEN HASSER
1978 Page Boulevard
Indian Orchard

Because Coreen transferred to Classical in her senior year, she was unable to participate in any of the activities. Nevertheless, she adjusted easily and proved to be quite popular. Coreen especially enjoys swimming and horseback riding and is very much interested in nursing. After she graduates, she plans to attend some school of nursing.

CAROLYN GRODIN
397 Roosevelt Avenue

Carolyn has participated in such activities as the Recorder, Madrigal, Carousel, I.R.C., the Ski Club, the Freshman Fashion Show, and has served on the Activities committee. Sharlene plans to attend college to prepare for a career in medicine.

ANGELICA KONCZAL

1477 Parker Street

Geli, although a student at Classical only since her junior year, has nevertheless been quite active. She was a member of I.R.C., the German Club, Pierides, and the Recorder. She enjoys reading, Broadway musicals, band music, traveling, Russian history, and German literature. In the future, she would like to visit Europe, and go to college to major in languages.

LYNN KELBERMAN

53 Alsace Street

Lynn has been a member of I.R.C., the French Affiliations Club, and the G.A.A., and she has served as a Student Leader. Her sentiments on Classical, "Although our work has been hard and sometimes tedious, at graduation it will be difficult to leave the familiar faces and old halls for the future experiences of college."

JoANN KRAMARZ

132 Goodwin Street

JoAnn, known for her striking blonde hair, has the distinction of winning a Blue Ribbon in the Scholastic Art Contest. This three year Art Club member has won a Certificate of Merit and has had exhibits at Wellman Hall. JoAnn also served as the chief artist of the library staff, and she was a member of I.R.C., G.A.A., and Junior Achievement. JoAnn plans to prepare for a career as an art teacher.

CHRISTINE KIELCZEWSKI

259 Cuff Avenue

Fun to be with, Chris has been one of our most popular and most active Classicalites. She has served on the Constitution committee, Junior Prom committee, and Girls' Patrol. Chris was also a member of the National Honor Society and I.R.C. Outside of school, she enjoys her job at Wesson Maternity Hospital, as well as skating, skiing, and tennis. Chris would like to attend Forsythe Dental School in Boston.

BARBARA-JEAN KUBIK

294 Dwight Street Extension

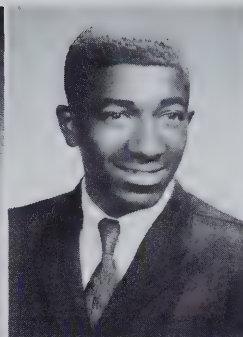

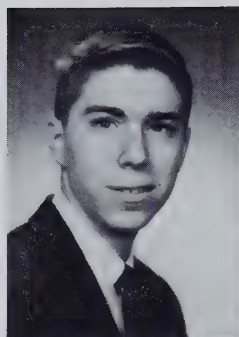

B.J. has been one of our most studious and active students. She was secretary of the Honor Society, vice-president of I.R.C., vice-president of the Future Teachers' Club, a member of the Recorder staff, and the French Affiliations Club. B.J. was also a P.T.S.A. alternate and a Student Leader. When not deeply engrossed in her studies, she holds a part-time job. In the future, she would like to teach junior high school.

STEPHAN KUTNER

14 Matoon Street

Steve can best be described as a man of action. He is a member of student government. Steve also distinguished himself as a member of the National Honor Society and the Mathletes. He has held the offices of secretary and treasurer in the Senate. Steve hopes to attend college and prepare himself for a career in medicine.

BERTRAND LASTER

11 Lilliah Street

To Bertrand Laster the best way to keep active is through sports. He enjoys basketball and bowling. His fondest memories will be of the days when the J.V. basketball team romped over Tech. After graduation, he hopes to join the service and then move to New York.

TOBY KUZON

40 Canterbury Road

One of the friendliest girls at Classical, Toby was always called upon by her classmates to remedy the case of wind blown hair with her hair styling abilities. Toby participated in the Carousel and I.R.C. Because of an outside job as a secretary, she didn't have time for many school activities.

GARY LATHAM

184 Knollwood Street

Although Gary, a transfer student, attended Classical for his senior year, he did not have trouble moving right into Classical's activities. He has been a valuable member of the crew, the track, and swimming teams, the Band, and I.R.C. His main ambition is to attend Dalhousie University in Nova Scotia and to make his life in Canada of which country he is a citizen.

PETER LADIZKI

54 Carlisle Street

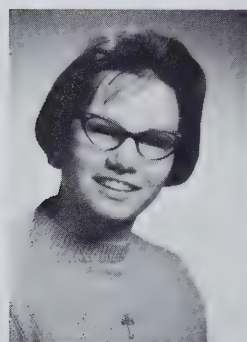

Although Peter was a transfer student and a member of the student body for a short time, he has "found the school to be full of spirit all the time, not just part of the time." Peter's interest in engineering and electronics is in line with his future plans to attend an Engineering School in Boston.

KAREN LAVIN

135 Emerson Street

Small and sparkling, Karen has been active in the Art Club, I.R.C., and she has served on the Activities Committee during her senior year. Karen's interests, when she is away from the bustling halls of Classical, include horse-back riding. She plans to attend college in Boston.

ANNA LADUE

159 Union Street

When asked her opinion on Classical, Anna sighed, "It's hard!" However, to look at her long list of activities, one might doubt that she had too much difficulty. Anna has served as a Blue and White advertising agent during her junior year, and as a library aide for three years. Proving her versatility, she was also a member of G.A.A., the Spanish Club, the Art Club, and the Biology Club, where she served as treasurer. Anna's plans are to "become a good teacher."

STUART LAVIN

181 Magnolia Circle
Longmeadow

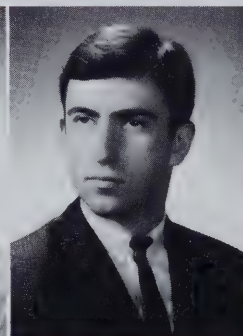

Stu, who says that "Classical is a school worth paying to go to," has an interesting hobby as an archaeologist. Stu has been a member of Classical's swimming and crew teams, the Latin Club, and the Senate. He has also served on the Activities Committee and as an Audio Visual Aide. He gave a comedy routine in the Freshman Fashion Show. After graduation, Stu plans to prepare for a career in business administration.

SUSANNAH LANDIS

46 Bronson Terrace

The girl with the long blonde hair, Susie has been most active in dramatics at Classical. An outstanding member of the Dramatics classes, she has participated in many of the dramatic productions and has served as student director of Carousel. Susie has also been a member of the Madrigal singers, I.R.C., the freshman banner committee, and has served as an ST alternate. Her plans for the future, as might be expected, center around acting and singing.

MARK LEDIARD

39 Sylvan Street

Our industrious class president Mark Lediard has certainly contributed his ability and time to the class of 1963. He has participated in many school sports, is a member of Student Government, and the Recorder staff. His plans for the future include a career in either government or psychiatry.

WENDY LEIDER

39 Terrace Lane

Wendy is one of the many students who did their best to "preserve the great standing that Classical acquired many years ago." As a member of Girls' Chorus and Choir, she participated in the Christmas and Spring Concerts for two years. Wendy also served as an ST agent during her junior and senior years, and she has been a three year member of I.R.C. and the Spanish Club. She plans to attend a junior college.

JANICE LOMBARD

36 Lynebrook Road

Jan, with her charm, has displayed her pep and vigor in everything she did, especially cheerleading. Jan was a member of the choir, Madrigal, I.R.C., Carousell, and G.A.A. One of the most popular students at Classical, she served on the Activities Committee and Junior Prom Decorations Committee. She has been a P.T.S.A. Agent, and she participated in the Freshman Fashion Show. Janice plans for a career in elementary education.

ROBERT LEVINE

6 Bronson Terrace

CAROL LORD

95 Princeton Street

A very active student, Carol Lord won state wide distinction for her work as county chairman of Teens Against Polio. At an assembly in her honor, Carol received a special award for her part in T.A.P. She has been a member of Student Government serving as its secretary. Carol would like to become a sixth grade teacher.

JOYCE LICHWALA84 Mazarin Street
Indian Orchard

Sparkling in both looks and personality, Joyce has lent her artistic flair to Classical not only as a three-year member of the Art Club, but also as a member of the Blue and White staff. She has received recognition for her art work, including a Gold Key and two certificates of merit from the National Scholastic Art Contests. Joyce expects to major in fine arts.

KATHLEEN LOUGHMAN

1460 Page Boulevard

Kathy has been one of the most popular members of the class of 1963. She was an active member of the Art Club and I.R.C. during her junior and senior years. In her freshman year, she served as a member of the Ring Committee. Baby sitting, bowling, and horseback riding are some of the favorite pastimes she enjoys. Kathy's plans for the future include attending a junior college.

PHILIP LITMAN

42 Clement Street

Phil Litman's favorite pastimes include fishing, bowling, and working on his car. Because of his job and home work, he has not been able to participate in many of Classical's activities. He was, however, a member of I.R.C. After graduation, Phil would like to attend college and prepare himself for a career in business administration.

MARTIN LUND

110 Hartwick Street

Although Marty Lund believes that Classical is "old, overcrowded, and dingy," he nevertheless feels that its college preparatory course can't be beat. Marty hasn't found time to participate in any of Classical's activities but he uses his spare time on his favorite hobbies: painting, drawing, sailing, and water skiing. After graduation, Marty would like to study the field of business administration.

JACQUELINE LOMAS

39 Olmstead Drive

Jackie, who believes that Classical is "a wonderful opportunity to make the best of one's self," has been a member of the Classical band and an ST agent, a member of the Constitution Committee, and I.R.C. A music lover, she enjoys playing her clarinet. After graduation, Jackie plans to attend college and prepare for a career either in dramatics or education.

DAVID MACOMBER

141 Pineywood Avenue

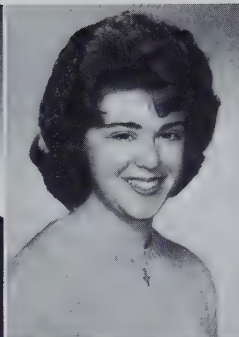

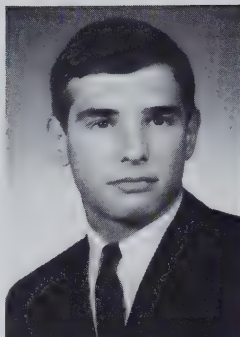

Rugged Dave Macomber has been one of Classical's athletes. Dave was an important member of the hockey and football teams. However, sports has not taken up all of his time. He has also been a member of the Ski Club and I.R.C. Dave served on the Junior Prom Queen Committee. Although his school activities have taken up a lot of his time, he still has found time to work as a caddy. After graduation, Dave hopes to attend college.

PAUL MADOR

11 East Alvord Street

Paul is an avid sports enthusiast. At Classical he was a valuable asset to the soccer, basketball, golf, and swimming teams. As a member of the Boys' Chorus and Choir, he has participated in the Christmas and Spring Concerts. Paul has also served as an ST agent as well as a member of Boys' Patrol and the Activities Committee. He plans to enter college and prepare himself for a career in business administration.

JANIS MARTIN

214 Evergreen Road

Janis Martin, known throughout Classical for her beautiful red hair, has been one of Classical's majorettes, adding a bit of sparkle to the football games at half-time performances. She has also participated in the Christmas and Spring Concerts as a member of the Girls' Chorus and Choir. In her spare time, she enjoys bowling and swimming. Janis plans to become a medical secretary.

LOUISE MAGEE

96 Maplewood Terrace

Louise, whose favorite pastime is "meeting interesting people and talking with them," is a popular member of the class of '63. She has also served as a P.T.S.A. agent for two years, a Red Cross agent in her junior year, and a Student Leader. Louise was also a member of I.R.C. and Junior Achievement. Her love of music and art found expression in Carousel. After graduation, Louise would like to attend a liberal arts college.

JOHN MASON

60 Stebbins Street

Among John's favorite activities at Classical have been the Latin Club, in which he served as treasurer and program chairman, and the Senate, in which he served as member-at-large and vice-president. In addition, he was a member of the I.R.C., the Boys' Chorus and one of the audio-visual aides. John plans to go to college and major in political science or history.

RICHARD MARCUSON

14 Carig Street

An artist in every sense of the word, Dick can be seen almost anywhere carrying his pencil and pad on which he takes notes for his Recorder sports-write-ups and art work. Also in line with his artistic interests are photography and a part-time job of armor restoration at the museum. He is a member of the National Honor Society and was selected for the "As Schools Match Wits" program.

JOYCE McCABE

102 San Miguel Street

Joyce McCabe is perhaps best known for her role as cheerleader captain. She was also active as chairman of the Activities and Junior Prom Committees, as a participant in the Freshman Fashion Show, and as a member of G.A.A. Joyce has her future plans quite complete: she will attend college, major in retailing, and then become an airline hostess.

SUSAN MARGESON

69 Clarendon Street

Sue has been an active member of the Red Cross and G.A.A. for three years and a member of the Art Club in her senior year. This busy miss, who enjoys sketching, any kind of art, and cheering with the gang at basketball and football games plans to attend college and major in English.

DAVID McCOMBE

161 Mayflower Road

David McCombe, a math enthusiast, plans to major in it at college, and later become a math teacher on the high school level. While at school, David has filled his extra time with such activities as Red Cross, intramural basketball, and acting as a Blue and White agent. David considers Classical "a school with a friendly atmosphere evident to even an outsider."

WILLIAM MARSHALL

24 King Street

Bill's activities here at Classical have centered around music. His primary interest is the piano, which he not only plays for his own pleasure, but also as accompanist for the Girls' Chorus. He also teaches several piano students. Bill's future plans include a career as a music teacher in a conservatory.

PATRICIA McCURRY

280 Page Boulevard

Although very quiet in school, Patti is very talkative outside of school, and talking on the phone is another pastime. At Classical, this charming girl has been in I.R.C. and the Latin Club, and writes the Alumni column in the Recorder. Her baby-sitting job must help her a great deal in gaining some experience to understand children for Patti's future plans as an elementary school teacher.

CATHERINE McKENNA

71 Vadnais Street

Pert and petite, Cathy enjoys attending Classical sports activities, and for the past two years, she has attended them in the capacity of one of our majorettes. In addition, she has enjoyed such other sports-slanted activities as the Student Leader program and swimming. Because Cathy plans to become a nurse, she enjoys her part-time job at Mercy Hospital.

JOHN MOORE

163 Cambria Street

John has been an enthusiastic participant in Classical activities, especially sports, whether they be track, football or "anything." He was an important member of the track and football teams while at Classical. John plans to study engineering at college. When asked his thoughts on Classical, he replied, "As far as I'm concerned, I couldn't have picked a better school to prepare me for my future life."

JANE McKENZIE

214 Fort Pleasant Avenue

Attractive and red-headed, Jane will certainly make a success of her plans to become a model. She also has a real flair for sports, and was a participant in the apparatus meet in her junior year and a member of the drill team in her senior year. Jane has been a three year member of I.R.C. and a library aide for one year.

JANET MORGAN

35 Firglade Avenue

Although Janet has enjoyed her years at Classical, she "will be glad when it's over." As a member of the Classical Chorus and Choir, Jan sang in the Christmas and Spring Concerts for two years. She also was a Student Leader. After graduation, Jan plans to attend college and prepare for secretarial career.

JUDITH MURPHY

An outstanding member of this year's soccer team, Volker enjoys not only sports in his spare time, but also reading, particularly literature and history. Volker plans to prepare for a career in medicine.

Advisers and Officers of the Class of 1963

With graduation comes the traditional "No more pencils, no more books . . ." But this year that verse is no longer just a harbinger of summer fun to the class of 1963; it signals the end of the most enjoyable years of our lives and the beginning of our most responsible years. For many it means strenuous years of study while for others it means the beginning of a vocational career. The officers of the senior class hope that whatever else may be in the future for the members of the class, they enjoy happiness and success.

Mark Lediard

Planning activities with the Class of 1963 has been rewarding and pleasant. As a class you have excelled. Now you will have the opportunity and obligation to apply what you have learned to the future, both your personal future and that of mankind.

Francis Girr

Seniors, please accept my congratulations and warm hearted good wishes. I congratulate you because I know it was hard work, not luck, that has brought you to this milestone in your education and I know Classical High School has benefited by your presence as much as you have reaped the rewards of attending Classical High School.

Robert Stevens

Lois James (treasurer), Paula Robbins (secretary), Michael Jacques (vice-president), Mark Lediard (president), and William Murray (member-at-large), are reflecting upon activities for the year.

A unit made up of nearly three hundred parts is bound to be complex; with the class of 1963, the unit has prevailed, with complexity geared smoothly into successful operation as a whole.

Mabel Morrill

May the vitality, health, and the learning of your youth always be with you to help you gain and keep happiness in all your endeavors.

Mary Morris

The advisers of the Class of 1963, Mr. Francis Girr, Miss Mary Morris, Mrs. Mabel Morrill and Robert Stevens are approving one of the class projects.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

With the excellent aid of the advisers and industrious officers of the Class of '64, the junior class has certainly had a successful year. Plymouth Rock and the Junior Prom were two of the most memorable events for the Class of '64. The enthusiastic support of all students, combined with beautiful decorations and the lively music of the band, made these dances a huge success. All members of the junior class also enjoyed the class picnic held toward the end of the year. Besides social activities, the junior class has been active in the academic and athletic fields. The Class of '64 looks forward to a very successful senior year.

On the steps in front of the school are the junior class officers: Clarence Bennett, president; Judi Corvin, treasurer; Arlene Shevock, member-at-large; Barbara Stackhouse, secretary; and John Thomas, vice-president.

BLUE AND WHITE

The juniors on Blue and White put in their share of work on the yearbook. At the end of their freshman year those who wish to work on the yearbook during their junior and senior years submit their names to Miss Boylan, the yearbook adviser. These students are endorsed by their teachers and then ten of these students, five boys and five girls, are chosen to be on the yearbook staff. In their junior year, these students become part of the yearbook staff and work toward the goal of a fine yearbook.

What would MISS BOYLAN do without juniors in 122?

Taking time out from their yearbook activity are juniors: John Lyons, Ruth Davidson, Kenneth Sinclair, Phyllis Judson, Bruce Meisner, Birgitte Madsen, Allan Meyers, and Nina Makeew.

Their goals are gradually being realized

Row 1: Bonnie Eisner, Dorothy Pskowski, Sonja Newman, Judith Flint, and Mary Roulind. Row 2: Rose Kafantaris, Anna-Marie Marratta, Marilyn Freedman, Marilyn Montagna, and Virginia Kelly.

MISS DICKERMAN'S "Vice Squad" is in Room 227.

The juniors on the Girls' and Boys' Patrols help the Patrols in their service to Classical High. The students who serve on the Patrols are chosen at the end of their freshman year. They are endorsed by their teachers, but the final decisions are made by the advisers to the Patrols, Miss Dickerman and Mr. Bresnahan. These students are a great credit to Classical High School and the class of '64.

Room 305 is MR. BRESNAHAN'S "Animal Farm"

by dint of hard work and application.

"Plymouth Rock," a dance held on November 16 by the junior class, was a sweeping success. It originated as a project to raise money for the Junior Prom expenses, and the students themselves contributed refreshments, and entertainment. Tatjana Jankovic as hostess, helped serve cookies and punch to guests Linda Olds, Karen Magnani, and Mr. Armen Jermakian.

Providing the students with excellent music, the Sta-by-fives, a local combo, were certainly a great hit. Ronnie Larned, William Burns, David Alberghini, and John Thomas played a variety of dance numbers.

The Class of '65

The Freshmen Class advisers, Mr. Szetela, Mrs. Beverley, Miss Curtis, and Mr. Leger, have cheerfully and willingly given much time this year to aid the class and its officers, Heddy Lissberger, Kenneth Cohn, Roberta Schwartz, Harry Royle, and Sheri Brown, pictured below.

The freshmen class has functioned very efficiently this year. They have enthusiastically carried out their duties and taken part in their class and school activities.

On November 9, 1962, the class elected its officers and Student Government representatives. The officers, who are pictured at the right, are Harry Royle, president; Roberta Schwartz, vice-president; Sheri Brown, secretary; Kenneth Cohn, treasurer; and Heddy Lissberger, member-at-large. Serving as Student Government representatives have been Shirley Bleau, Kenneth Cohn, Michael Curran, Donna DuBois, Carol Neilson, Ruth Stroshine, and Constance Young.

On February 9, 1963, the Class of '65 held a very successful dance, "Traffic Jam". A member of the freshmen activities committee dressed as a policeman was stationed at the door of the gym to collect tickets. The gym was cleverly decorated with parking signs and even a jail.

In June, the freshmen class is planning a fun-filled picnic at a nearby park to celebrate the close of a successful year at Classical.

Every spring, Miss Boylan chooses ten freshmen to serve in their junior and senior years on the Blue and White staff. When they return in the autumn, they begin an apprenticeship to master the complexities of yearbook technique. Peter Cokkinias shows Kenneth Sinclair some methods of layout planning. Nina Makeew and Phyllis Judson are trying their hand at copy.

When the pictures and copy are ready, layout planning begins. Many factors, from mathematical formulae to artistic judgment, influence the positioning of photographs and copy on a page.

Irene DuBiel demonstrates the "square-inch copy rule" for Ruth Davidson, Birgitte Madsen, and John Lyons. Naomi Bloom considers a picture which she is about to reduce.

The seniors on the staff devoted much of their time to the senior section. Bill Murray scheduled appointments with the photographer and prodced camera shy students.

Naomi Bloom, Irene DuBiel, Louise Newton, Joyce Lichwala, Pam Rice, and Doris Kleinerman make a final check on the senior section before sending it to the printer.

There is a great deal of work before the yearbook is distributed in June, but the staff finds opportunities for enjoyment. In October, several of the senior members went to the Columbia Scholastic Press Conference in New York City. They broadened their knowledge of layout, photography, theme, and copy, and saw some of New York.

When we have free time, there is Ad Staff and proofreading.

After the layouts for the yearbook are sent to the printer, the members of the staff are certainly not finished for the year. The important task of carefully proofreading each galley which the printer returns still remains. Here, Louise Newton and Irene DuBiel check over the first set of senior section proofs, containing the biographies of each member of the senior class, for possible errors, regardless of how small or unimportant they may seem.

A yearbook can only be as good as the financial backing it is given. The Blue and White advertising staff must fill the gap between the actual cost of printing the book and the students' price. Members of the Advertising Staff are Pamela Rice, Anna Ladue, Doris Kleinerman, Judy Murphy, Renee Reisner, John Lyons, Steve Kutner, and John Sheehan.

Even our fine yearbook requires salesmanship.

Salesmanship and accuracy in keeping records are requirements for a Blue and White agent. They are (row 1) Gail Solin, Priscilla Sandquist, Miriam Trementozzi, Judy Goff, Paula Quinn, Susan Viens, Jane Alexander; (row 2) Linda Shaker, Eileen Donnelly, Nancy Syriac, Karen Jurkowski, Rose Giannini; (row 3) Susan Smith, Joyce Rosenthal, Gail Haggerty, Linda Mazur,

Despite the high literary standards and artistic considerations necessary to a good yearbook, money is the backbone of the operation. After our Blue and White agents have persuaded their classmates to order a book, the responsible agent, like Brice Corwin, delivers his money into the hands of Bill Murray and Bruce Meisner, the collectors.

The Recorder Staff is responsible for keeping the school population informed about the happenings at Classical. The members are Douglas Clark, Margie Taft, Martin Waite, Mike Edwards, Susan Abbe, Linda Nassar, Bob Bullivant, Barbara-Jean Kubik, Liz Freedman, Lois James, Karen Hammerlof, Alan Buder, Patti

is in the Classical Recorder.

Writers rushing around trying to meet deadlines, editors frantically re-arranging layouts, ad men busily selling and collecting ads — general confusion: this is the picture that greets a casual visitor to Room 208, Classical's newsroom. Somehow, in spite of the appearance of this room, the thirty-two senior members of the Recorder manage to put out an edition of their paper once every three weeks.

The process begins and ends with the editors. At the beginning of the three-week span, and sometimes earlier, the editors must decide what they want on their pages and assign articles to the writers. Deadlines are set up for the writers; it is their responsibility to see that the articles are written and handed in on time. Of course, who does anything ahead of time? Not Recorder. But, miraculously, deadlines are always met, though this often requires a hectic struggle.

After articles are turned in, they must be copyread, printed, proofread, approved, and put in their proper position in the layout; this phase is handled by the editors. Eventually, a neat, four-page, essentially correct newspaper is distributed to the readers, who, the staff hopes, read what is inside before using the paper to wrap sandwiches, cover books, or start bonfires.

Besides the staff, there are other students connected with the paper: the 11j (journalism) students taught by adviser Henry A. Black. By watching the older, more experienced staff members, the fledgling journalists become thoroughly acquainted with the job of putting out a high school newspaper. Ask any 11j student, and he'll tell you all he knows about journalism in one, short, simple sentence!

Publishing the Recorder involves much labor and patience. Working on their respective columns are Cindy Pease, who writes the editorials; Gail Solin, who co-authors the VIP column; and Susan Abbe, who edits the reviews. As the deadline approaches, these girls, as well as the regular typists, are kept busy during their few free moments.

Laying out a page is one of the most important aspects in publishing a newspaper. Like any other newspaper the Recorder staff must cut newsprint to the proper size. Here Rennie Austin is preparing to paste copy to the dummy sheet as Joyce Widland wields the shears. Andi Aranow and Lois James help Sue Hechler select the desired type to be used.

The annual Christmas concert was one

During the past year the music groups, choral, under the direction of Mr. Alfred Jacobs, and instrumental, under Mr. Vincent O'Keeffe, brought great recognition to Classical High School from all over the state of Massachusetts. From the Western Massachusetts District Concert held in Agawam to the All-State Festival held this year in Springfield, Classical musicians reflected the values acquired through the study of music here. In all these events Classical musicians had the largest representation in the greater Springfield area. An even greater honor was bestowed upon four Classical musicians who were chosen to appear in Atlantic City, New Jersey, March 1 through 4 at the Eastern Festival. Musicians were selected for participation in the Eastern Festival on a keen competitive basis from the New England and Middle Atlantic states. The two members selected to the Eastern Chorus were Kathleen Ostroski and Kathryn Weinland and to the Eastern Orchestra, Peter Cokkinias and Lawrence Goldstein.

Choral director, Mr. Jacobs, presented tri-faith programs at the Christmas and spring concerts and at various school assemblies throughout the year. Selecting music from the Jewish, Protestant, and Catholic religions, Mr. Jacobs brought out the effect and influence of religion upon the old musical manuscripts. The most professional choral group, the Madrigal, performed Randall Thompson's "Alleluia," a fascinating contrapuntal and polyphonic composition, and William's "I Behold Her Beautiful as a Dove," an ecclesiastical motet of the early eighth century. The Madrigal performed quite actively in civic functions in the community, at the Western Massachusetts Festival in Wilbraham, and by special request at the All-State Festival in Springfield. In June the Madrigal presented its formal concert in the Tapestry Court of the Fine Arts Museum.

One of the highest points of interest during the school year was the annual Christmas concert. Presented Thursday evening, December 20, the Christmas concert provided an interesting program of instrumental and vocal music. At the beginning of the program, the band, under the baton of Mr. Vincent O'Keeffe, played Christmas carols, setting the mood and atmosphere for this inspiring evening. Immediately following the Christmas carols, the choruses under direction of Mr. Alfred Jacobs presented the vocal portion of the program. The Choir, Madrigal, Boys', and Girls' Choruses performed at the concert. Also the Classical Brass Ensemble, which received especially good reviews in the city newspaper, and the Classical Woodwind Quintet displayed their musical abilities in the program. At the close of the concert, the combined choruses and the alumni sang the traditional "O Holy Night."

Members of the Madrigal, selected by audition from all choruses, rehearse every day throughout the school year. Row 1: Pamela Rice, Marjorie Taft, Carol Fournier, Sandra Hadyn, and Janice Lombard. Row 2: Bonnie Fuller, Susan Landis, Kathryn Weinland, Kathleen Ostroski, Sara Schenck, Cynthia Pierce, and Carolyn Grodin. Row 3: Geoffrey Neigher, Barry Chase, Peter Herndon, Theodore Ek, Michael Solin, Mark Lediard, John Cooper, Richard Yetwin, Andrew Fink, and Bruce Chandler.

The spring concert featured both Freshmen choruses,

The Girls' Chorus meets sixth period Mondays and Wednesdays during the school year. Row 1: Terrill Burnett, Madalyn Blake, Juliette Scibelli, Doreen Wattein, Marcia Soja, Miriam Tremenz, and Dawn Baker. Row 2: Susan Bednarzyk, Penelope Smith, Jane Alexander, Sandra Steinberg, Carol Goldsmith, Constance Rinehart, Judy Maher, Cynthia Bryant, Linda Mysliwy, Susan Howe, Donna Howe, Dorothea Jackson, Catherine Rioni, Penelope Hollis, and Adrienne Cobb. Row 3: Donna Zucchi, Pamela Stackhouse, Joy Salus, Maureen Chernick, Marlyn Phillips, Janice Fleischner, Judith Clayton, Dorothy Dickinson, Donna DeBonis, Roselyn Warner, Marilyn Temkin, Andrea Fichman, Carol Hoagland, Barbara Comeau, Grace Dunn, and Virginia Therrien. Row 4: Cynthia Larder, Diana Perry, Karin Tillman, Terry Pevzner, Roberta Finson, Patricia Roberts, Laraine Goodman, Linda Carlson, Katherine Tucker, Dorothy Pskowski, Barbara Gordon, Doreen Cohen, Heidi Sawyer, Joyce Balbos, Jane Sirulnik, Paula Strage, Marian Axtman, and Carol Meaney. Row 5: Jacqueline McDonald, Maria Hicks, Jean Scougall, Linda Gorman, Patricia Lindsey, Marsha Cady, Andano Bryan, Carol Gordenstein, Barbara Sack, Constance Marsden, Eileen Tariff, Nancy Herndon, Beth Cohn, Maryjane Broska, Heather Pennington, Priscilla Price, Lynn Gordinier, Andrea Berry, Linda Tower, and Tamara Konoptschak. Row 6: Patricia Hogan, Betty Schofield, Mary Turner, Harriet Strasberg, Marilyn Smith, Michele Solin, Linda Small, Ann Radding, Leslye Nuger, Valerie Rothchild, Elaine Hagopian, Susan Packard, Patricia Palazzo, Susan Cheney, Jo-Ann Lussier, Carol Neilson, Judith Prior, Suzanne Peters, Claudette Gibson, Audrey Bryant, and Gail Harris.

The Freshmen, even at the beginning of their first year here at Classical High School, showed an active interest in both the Girls' and Boys' Choruses. The Girls' Chorus was the largest among all choral groups. Comprised largely of about 115 Freshmen girls, this chorus participated in both the Christmas and spring concerts. The Girls' Chorus meets twice a week with Mr. Jacobs in room 101 preparing the musical compositions "Give Ear Unto Me" by Marcello and "Ave Verum" by Mozart for their concert work.

Closely associated with the Girls' Chorus was the Freshman Boys' Chorus. The Boys' Chorus performed for assemblies at school and with the combined choruses for the graduation exercises held in June at the Municipal Auditorium. This chorus sang "Heavens Are Telling" by Beethoven and "Praise Ye the Lord" by Pickard and Malin.

In their senior years, these members of the Freshmen choruses will have been ready to audition for the upper choruses Choir and Madrigal, experienced both by musical technique and by classical repertorie. This year the Choir had an active program. Besides preparing for assemblies and for concert work at school, the Choir along with the Madrigal performed for the Western Massachusetts music festival in Wilbraham. At the festival the music educators heard "Song of Galilee" by Chajes and "All In the April Evening" by Robertson, compositions sung by the Choir.

Also at the music festival the newly organized Classical High School Orchestra was well received. The orchestra played the "Symphonette in D" by G. F. McKay and "Symphony No. 15" by J. Haydn. Later, instrumental director Mr. O'Keeffe expressed an interest in having a concert solely for the purpose of presenting chamber music. This prompted the action for a chamber music concert held in mid-March. The orchestra, band, Schubert Octet, brass ensemble, and the woodwind quintet were featured.

Choir, Madrigal, and the Orchestra.

The Choir of about sixty-five members meets fourth period throughout the school year. Row 1: Catherine McKenna, Janis Martin, Bernice Voltz, Pamela Kerschler, Barry Pilver, John Sheehan, Alan Zeller, Leonard Schmidt, Linda Nadelman, Barbara Durkee, Adrienne Austin, and Lois James. Row 2: Susan Dodge, Kay Sears, Barbara Smith, Susan Klempner, Robin Teitel, Judi Corvin, Douglas Hinckley, Ronal Soodalter, Mark Clark, John McGahan, Joan Smart, Geraldene Peck, Rosalie Desotell, Stephanie Kitty, and Judith Ehrlich. Row 3: Christian Michael, Sherrie Johnson, Joanne Donovan, Beverly Knight, Ellen Rudek, Stuart Smith, Mark Chester, Michael Jennings, Carl Paquette, Doria Martinelli, Marcia Young, Dawn Evans, Lynda Ferris, Arlene Horowitz, and Myra Retchin. Row 4: Helena Scvarnavicious, Susan Stearns, Tanya Jankovic, Karen Kuczariski, Lydia Sirulnik, Marlene Brusnicki, Clifford Lofgren, Peter DeBarger, David Bisson, Daniel Calloway, Bruce Meisner, Linda Bartels, Elizabeth Nathan, Leslie Kimball, Nancy Posnick, and Rinah Abramson.

One of the smaller music groups, the Boys' Chorus meets second period every day. Row 1: Robert Rutherford, Kent Goodchild, Peter Carellas, Mark Groffman, Scott Atwater, Charles Whittle, Altem. Row 2: Howard Uman, Edward Grant, Paul Carlson, and Donald Auster; row 2: Howard Uman, Edward Shapiro, Bruce Bullen, Richard Walsh, Robert Dever, Gary Circosta, Robert Potter, Paul Magnani, Peter Merchant, and Edward Naurison. Row 3: Ronald Tucker, Alan Goodman, Edward Waniga, Marc Falbe, Peter White, William Bridgman, Raymond Galleran, Dennis Murphy, and John Mason.

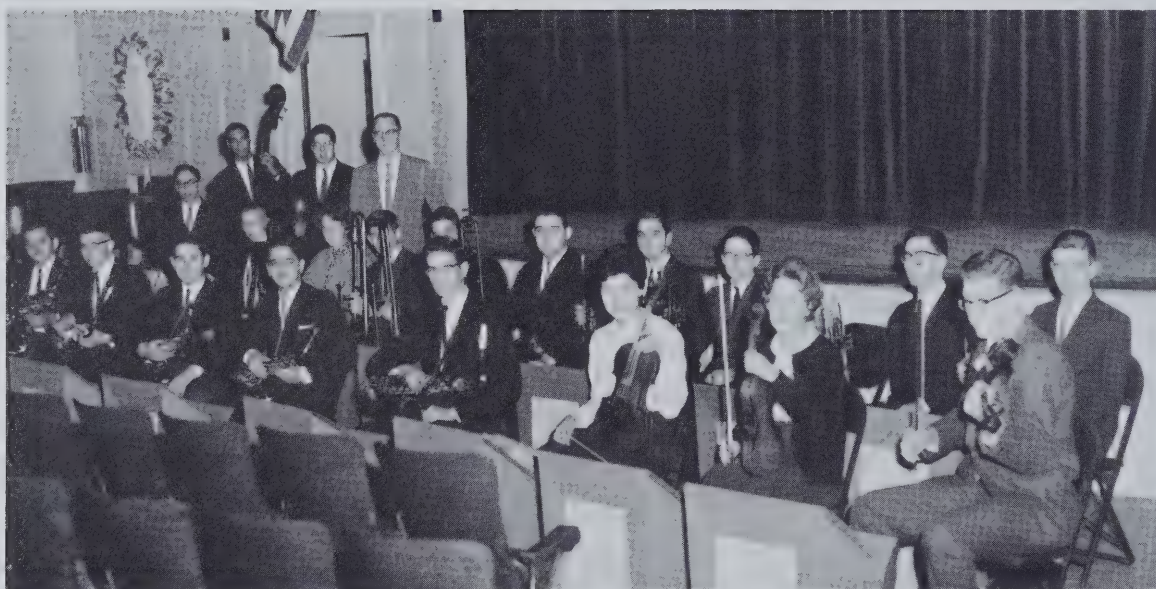

The Orchestra was the newest addition to our musical department this year. The members are William McCullough, Ronald Weiss, Director Mr. Vincent O'Keeffe, Carole Michaels, Linda Gianasi, Peter Fantl, Nancy Stuart, Peter Cokkinias, John Grady, Rebecca Hartshorn, Andrew Cokkinias, Elaine Hoffman, Peter Krause, Lawrence Goldstein, Gilbert Vickers, Gene Fantl, Alma Silverman, Donald Blair, Sandy Sawyer, and John Thomas.

The Bands participated in various

The band displayed fine sound and balance in concert work as well as in the marching routines: Majorettes: Catherine McKenna, Maria Hicks, Carol Hinckley, Janice Martin, and Carol Trask. Row 1: James Finney, David Malo, Gary Latham, Kevin Coyle, Lawrence Goldstein, Kenneth Nicholson, Peter Krause, Ruth Stroshine, Leonard Alexander, David Guzek, Richard Yemenijian, and President Peter Cokkinias. Row 2: Theresa Haskins, Secretary Paula Stanton, John Bloomberg, Roberta Blackmer, Lorna Lesquier, Vice-President Andrew Cokkinias, William Neigher, Curtis Brossmer, Lyle Pearsons, Robert Elliott, Mario Pagnoni, and James Sarnelli. Row 3: Charles Johnson, Jacqueline Lomas, Robert Bassell, John Sheehan, Judith Holland, Theresa Trella, Susan Pevzner, Linda Trager, Adriene Cobb, Christine Szczepanek, Donald Blair, and John Nadolski. Row 4: William McCullough, Roger Blackmer, Robert Ford, Henry DiCarlo, Theodore Fantl, and Frank Ruscio. Row 5: Director Mr. Vincent O'Keeffe, Jay Friedman, Gil Vickers, Alexander Moles, Peter Fantl, Paul Raverta, Nathaniel Akerman, Andrew Hayes, Treasurer John Thomas, and John Johnson.

The Swing Band used the latest jazz ideas at all band concerts and especially at the junior high school concerts: David Guzek, Peter Fantl, William McCullough, John Bloomberg, John Thomas, Donald McMahon, Peter Cokkinias, Jay Friedman, Ruth Stroshine, Director

Even before the choruses were staging assemblies, the Classical High School Band was diligently practicing routines for the season's football games. Under the supervision and weary correction by the band director, Mr. Vincent O'Keeffe, the drum major, and the right guides, the band performed as a well-coordinated unit at all the football games. What an impressive sight it was to see the sixty strong come marching down the field or street, providing a bit of competition for the bands in the city.

After the marching season was over, the band settled down to concert work for the remainder of the school year. A few more difficult compositions which the band performed were "The Universal Judgment," a symphonic tone poem, by Camille De Nardis and "Bolero," a striking repetitious composition, by Maurice Ravel. Other compositions included solos for two talented seniors on clarinet and trombone, performed at the band's own concert in the spring.

During the concert season, the band had quite a diversified program of events. The band played not only for our own school assemblies but also for those of various junior high schools in the area. In traveling to these different schools, the band took all the Dixie, German, and Swing Band units. This provided a truly exciting program.

The Dixie Band was well known to those fans who cheered at the Field House Friday nights. And those who saw Carousel remembered the hilarious musical antics of the German Band and the lively music of the Swing Band. The Swing Band played selections from the musical hit shows, "West Side Story" and "My Fair Lady."

Through various competitive organizations in the state, Classical band members were rated high. They participated in the District Festival, the Western Massachusetts Music Festival, the All-State Festival, and even in the Eastern Festival. Moreover, this participation has reflected the true spirit of music which Classical High School presents her student body.

Reflections are many in Classical's

A skit, depicting the nine Pierides — Clio, Euterpe, Thalia, Melpomene, Terpsichore, Erato, Polyhymnia, Urania, and Calliope, was the hit of the meeting for freshmen. Margaret Sheldon explains to Mary Ellen Quirk and Theo Snyder the significance of the costumes of Irene DuBiel, Rennie Austin, and Marilyn Temkin.

At this typical Senate meeting, the members enjoy their privilege of free speech. President Alex Mirinoff looks on while Norman Cohn, Dennis Murphy, Robert Ford, Evan Bellin, Robert Hammer, Edward Bryant, Nathaniel Ackerman, Michael Dicarlo, Stephen Gladstone, and Robert Dever discuss a motion.

PIERIDES

Adviser: Miss Christine Sauer

Time and Place of Meeting: third Wednesday of every month in room 119

Officers: President ..... Joyce Widland
 Vice-President ..... June Solomon
 Secretary ..... Theo Snyder
 Treasurer ..... Mary Ellen Quirk
 Program Chairman ..... Margaret Sheldon

Purpose of Club: To promote and develop interest in literature, public speaking, music, debating, and art.

Activities: Classical's oldest society for girls, Pierides had a very active and varied program in 1962-1963. The club began its year with a meeting especially for freshman girls. Nine upperclass members presented a short skit depicting the characteristics of each of the nine Muses of Pierides. In the fall the members visited the Springfield Museum of Fine Arts, where they were addressed by Mr. Robinson, the director, who showed some of the best paintings in the museum's collection.

Another highlight of the year was an informative speech on India by Mr. Mohan Singh, an exchange student at Springfield College. To encourage interest in formal debating, Mr. Henry Barton of the Classical faculty discussed team debating. Two members represented the club at the annual American International College Model Congress. Pierides planned to end its year with a trip to the art museums in New York City.

SENATE

Advisers: Mr. F. Girr and Mr. H. Barton

Time and Place of Meeting: Regularly in room 225 after school

Officers:	September to January	February to June
President	Steven Gladstone	Alexander Mironoff
Vice-President	John Mason	Evan Bellin
Secretary-Treasurer	Stephen Kutner	Bruce Dever

Purpose of Club: For practice in public speaking and debating.

Activities: In room 225, Robert's Rules regulate some of the stormiest discussions at Classical. This year the Senate chose the topic, World Trade, for debates to develop the members' abilities in public speaking and debating. In the spring the club held its annual Senate Tablet Debate. Members of the Senate also participated in the Model Congress at American International Congress.

As Pierides is the oldest girls' organization at Classical, President Joyce Widland reads some of the first secretary's reports to Mary Ellen Quirk, and Donna Hurwitz.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Adviser: Mrs. Barbara Bowen

Time and Place of Meeting: Every Monday period D in room 203

Officers:

President

Vice-President

Recording Secretary

Corresponding Secretary

Treasurer

September to January

Maureen Bigelow

Bruce Scott

Robert Fleischner

Douglas Clark

Britt Carlson

February to June

Bruce Scott

Barry Chase

Nancy Donnelly

Barry Izenstein

Seth Kurn

Purpose: To act as a spokesman for the student body, to act as a forum for all questions of interest to the students, and to conduct activities for promoting the general welfare of Classical High.

Activities: One of the most important organizations in Classical, the Student Government fulfills its purpose through many activities. The Student Government conducts class elections, student-of-the-month elections, student opinion polls, and the Student Treasury drive and assembly. It is responsible for the Welcome Frosh Dance, the Holiday Semi-formal Dance, the Activities Assembly, ticket sales for games, the school store, and promotion of the pep squad. The members of Student Government also take part in conventions and student exchange programs.

A great deal of responsibility is placed on the officers of the Student Government. The officers for the second term are (standing) Seth Kurn, Nancy Donnelly, Barry Izenstein, Barry Chase, and (seated) Bruce Scott.

CAROUSEL

"Make Music, Man," Carousel '63, written by Christopher Scott, Peter Krause, Ronald Weiss, Beverly Gallant, and Susan Dodge, under the supervision of Miss Mills, Miss King, and Mr. Barton, was the story of Mr. James, a high school teacher played by Mark Lediard, who was dismissed from the school system because he taught his classes by singing and playing the guitar. Mr. Dussaldorf, a physics teacher, was played by David Black, and Mr. Wilfong, the indignant principal, was played by Barry Chase. The students, Carol (Susan Dodge), George (Richard Yetwin), Peggy (Susannah Landis), Bob (Geoffrey Neigher), and Sue (Marjorie Taft) plotted to have the "singing teacher" reinstated. Mr. Jacobs directed the singers and Mr. O'Keeffe directed the excellent Classical band.

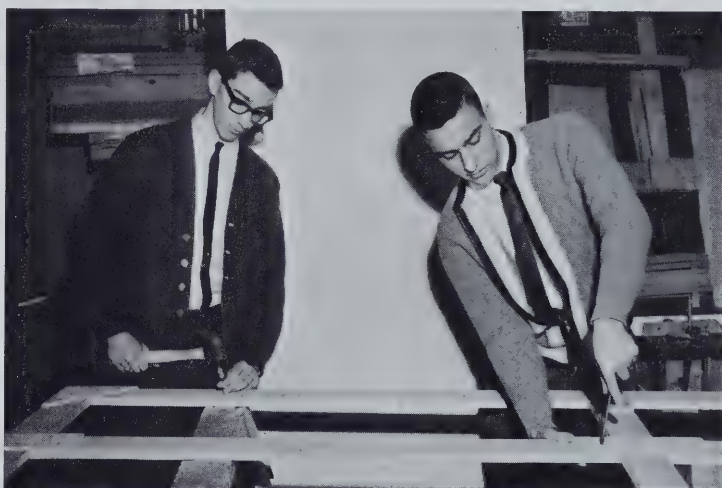

Christine Galanis, under the direction of Mrs. Helena Laramée, designed the sets built by carpenters Stephen Bernstein, Laurence Hurwitch, Carl Turner, and John Buldrini, under the supervision of Mr. Mulak and Mr. Lynch. Judy Ehrlich, choreographer, directed two modern dances entitled "Do Re Mi" and "Chicken Fat." General choreography was handled by Mrs. Andrewes and Mrs. Desrosiers. Production was handled by David Neigher, Demetrios Spelios, and Tamara Vekshin, while Susan Abbe, Suzanne Halberstadt, and Linda Raschi helped as directors. In the absence of Mr. Bernard Donnelly, Mr. Henry Barton of the English department served as chief director.

The A.V.A., under the supervision of Mr. Szetela and Mr. Benjamin, regulated lighting and sound. Mrs. Bale handled tickets and publicity, and Miss Porter typed the programs. Miss Dickerman and Mr. Bresnahan supervised the usher committee. Mr. Freme acted as general coordinator.

When Carousel was still in its early stages, rehearsals such as this were numerous. Geoffrey Neigher and Carol Hoagland are reading their parts while Martin Lund, Richard Yetwin, Susan Dodge, Carl Shapiro, Stuart Lavin, and Bruce Chandler supervise.

To produce a show such as Carousel, a script is the first requirement. Working on this aspect of the show are Richard Hoagland, Miss Mills, and Christopher Scott, making the necessary revisions to make the script as perfect as possible.

A production, regardless of the talent and hard work being put into it, is nothing without appropriate and attractive scenery. Paying close attention to its sturdiness as well as Steve Bernstein and John Buldrini, beginning to construct a flat which will soon become an integral part of Carousel.

Serving as office aides and receptionists are the . . .

The members of the Girls' Patrol are (row 1) Nancy Allen, Sandra Rae, Paula Dunham, Dorothy Frydryk, Ingeborg Rath, Nora Kane, Sonja Newman, Judy Flint, Mary Rouland; (row 2) Joanne Coppola, Martha-Jo Dino, Bonnie Eisner, Linda Millman, Rose Kafantaris, Marilyn Freedman, Joyce Rivers, Dorothy Psowski, Marilyn Montagna, Jane Wallach, Virginia Kelly, Christine Kielczewski, Anne-Marie Marratta, Barbara Nolan, and Dara Sadler.

GIRLS' PATROL

Adviser: Miss Ruth Dickerman

Time and Place of Meeting: Before school each day in room 227

Officers: Captain ..... Paula Dunham
Clerk ..... Nora Kane
Lieutenants ..... Dorothy Frydryk
Ingeborg Rath

Purpose of Club: The purpose of Girls' Patrol is to serve Classical.

Activities: A Girls' Patrol member greets visitors at the Information Desk. She also aids in the main office, in 105, and in the counseling office. She keeps order in the powder room and works at cafeteria posts during lunch periods. A Girls' Patrol member distributes programs at Carousel and graduation, helps with the hearing and vision tests, and generally serves whenever she can be of assistance.

The Counseling Office is a site of constant activity, and many guests from college admission's offices see this room before any other. A member of the Girls' Patrol is always on duty to replace catalogues, answer questions, and aid the three counselors. Nora Kane is checking the list of student acceptances for possible duplication. Behind her is a map of the United States with the colleges indicated because they send representatives to Classical or have students attending these colleges.

Directing traffic and supervising the lunchroom are the . . .

One of the patrols' many duties is to supervise the lunchroom. Here, Charles Houghton is admonishing a group of noisy juniors. There seems to be some controversy about who gets which lunch. The girls are Joyce Balbos, Marlene Brusnicki, Audrey Bryant, Michele Baum, Rinah Abramson, Roberta Allen, Patricia Byrnes, Dawn Baker, Candy Algee, Karen Augur, Janice Berger, and Evelyn Bernstein.

BOYS' PATROL

Adviser: Mr. Bresnahan

Time and Place of Meeting: Before school each day in room 305

Officers: Captain ..... Lee Cassanelli
 Clerk ..... Mark Halperin
 Lieutenants ..... Robert Fleischner
   Bruce Scott
   John Howe
   Clement Deschenes
   Raymond Durocher

Purpose: Patrol members aid teachers and help to maintain order.

Activities: Don't be caught in the halls without a pass or a Boys' Patrol member will be questioning you. Patrol members are on duty in the halls between classes and in the cafeteria both lunch periods assisting teachers. Moreover, Patrolmen willingly assist absent-minded students who can't seem to find that locker key. Patrol members greet guests at Carousel, graduation, and school concerts and usher them to their seats. Patrolmen are also on hand in the office ready to perform necessary errands.

Members of the P.T.S.A. Board are (seated) Mrs. William Grosnick, Mrs. Robert Clark, Mrs. William Shevock, and Miss Lois Curtis; (standing) Mrs. Alvin Chase, Mr. Joseph Freme, Mrs.

Oscar Millman, Mrs. Q. A. Trementozi, Mr. Alvin Chase, Miss Mary Corcoran, and Mr. Raymond Montagna.

CLASSICAL PARENT-TEACHER-STUDENT ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE BOARD 1962-1963

Co-Presidents

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Clark

promoting the welfare of Classical High.

P. T. S. A.

Time and place of meeting: Whenever possible in the assembly hall

Purpose: To foster better understanding among teachers and students.

Activities: The Classical P.T.S.A., the first formed in the country with the largest membership in the state, planned programs with parents, teachers, and students in mind. In the fall, Mr. Montagna and Counselors Mrs. Ramos and Mr. Comeau provided an interesting panel discussion considering all aspects of college. Another activity of the P.T.S.A. was a splendid showcase program for the musical organizations of the school at the Christmas Concert. One of the most successful events was the auction, held at Trinity Church on January 30. The P.T.S.A. Scholarship Committee arranged a very successful Millinery Show and Card Party on March 20. Also highlighted this year, was the informative talk by Charles H. Keating, Jr., National Chairman of Citizens for Decent Literature and Motion Pictures. The State Convention of the Massachusetts Congress of Parents and Teachers took place at the Sheraton-Kimball in Springfield on October 26 and 27. To conclude its program, the P.T.S.A. held its Annual Banquet on May 20.

Spring is "busting out all over," and Sandra Bristol is ready in her navy blue chapeau. She is modeling for the P.T.S.A. card party and millinery show which was held to raise money for student scholarships.

Student representatives form a liaison between the parents and teachers. The representatives are Joyce Lichwala, Roberta Allen, Marilyn Temkin, Carol Trask, Joanne Donovan, Carol Daponde, Frank Eaton, John Mason, Karen Magnani, Allan Meyers, Laura Wessman, John Lyons, Barbara-Jean Kubik, Linda Millman, and Lenore Rosenfield.

Proudly displaying the Red Cross flag are the officers James Higgins, Hannah Ascher, Roberta Allen, Patricia Byrnes, and Linda Ferris.

HIGH SCHOOL RED CROSS

Adviser: Mrs. Julia Beverley

Time and Place of Meeting: Homeroom periods in 218

Officers: President ..... James Higgins
1st Vice-President ..... Linda Ferris
2nd Vice-President ..... Patricia Byrnes
Secretary ..... Roberta Allen
Treasurer ..... Hannah Ascher

Purpose of Club: The High School Red Cross serves as a liaison between the rescue activities and service programs of the national organization and able student volunteers.

Activities: After a much publicized Enrollment Drive in November, the High School Red Cross spends the rest of the year serving the community. Funds which have been collected during the drive are used to purchase gifts for community centers and hospitals, to support the national and international rescue work done by the Red Cross, and, in general, to aid the community. Members serve as aides at hospitals, nursing homes, and the blood-mobile. The club also sponsors parties at Westover Air Force Base Hospital, Holyoke Soldiers' Home, Leeds Hospital, and Monson State Hospital.

Planning the Red Cross' many activities are James Higgins, Janet Quimby, and Judith Rochford.

Visual aides are often called upon to show films in the classroom. Here, Ronald Marsh, Ken Nicholson, and Leonard Alexander thread a projector.

AUDIO VISUAL AIDES

Adviser: Mr. Walter Szetela

Time and Place of Meeting: No formal meetings

Officers: There are no officers

Purpose: To assist teachers in using visual aid machines.

Activities: If you want to stage an assembly or show a few slides, you will no doubt seek out an audio visual aide. The aides, who can always be found in their office at the rear of the auditorium, operate projectors for teachers, help with the assemblies and Carousel by regulating the public address system and the lights, and by giving technical assistance at school dances.

Checking equipment is one of the responsibilities of the stage crew. Here, Ronald Marsh, Carl Shapiro, Francis Frenquelli, Alex Milionis, and Ken Nicholson test a tape recorder to make sure it is working properly.

FRENCH AFFILIATIONS CLUB

Adviser: Miss Irene Rouillard

Time and Place of Meeting: The third Thursday of every month in room 244

Officers: President ..... Linda Olds

Vice-President ..... Nora Kane

Secretary ..... Elizabeth Freedman

Treasurer ..... Paula Robbins

Purpose: To develop our understanding of the French language and culture.

Activities: Are you curious about life in France? Then you should be interested in the activities of the French Affiliations Club. This year members exchanged projects with Le Collège Technique de Jeunes Filles in Le Havre, and corresponded with penpals in France. Through the efforts of the club, a French college graduate, attending the University of Massachusetts, spoke to interested third- and fourth-year French students. Club members also presented films and skits about French life, and held a "Holidays around the Year" party of games, reports, and refreshments.

Elizabeth Freedman, Paula Robbins, Linda Olds, and Karen Magnani examine an embroidered map which was sent to Classical from an affiliated school in France.

Georgia Collins, David Bisson and Mr. Fleming discuss a Latin Club play to be presented in Latin. Activities like this helped demonstrate that Latin is not entirely dead.

LATIN CLUB

Adviser: Mr. James Fleming

Time and Place of Meeting: Every other Monday in room 223

Officers: President ..... John Lyons
 Vice-President ..... Mary Ellen Quirk
 Secretary ..... Jill MacDonald
 Treasurer ..... Mary McCabe
 Program Chairmen ..... John Mason, Karen Hammerlof

Purpose of Club: Promote the study of Latin culture.

Activities: So you think Latin's dead? Latin Club members find that Roman language and culture form a large part of Western culture. Speakers included Dr. Frederick, chairman of the modern language department at Classical, who spoke on Roman monuments in southern France; Dr. Ruth MacIntyre, of Holyoke Junior College, who spoke on Renaissance literature; and Mr. Donald Reickert, of the George Walter Vincent Smith Museum, who spoke on Roman glassmaking. In addition, films showed the evolution of modern government, philosophy, and literature from that of the Romans and Greeks.

After a lecture on Roman monuments in southern France, Dr. Fredrick shows Jacek Lubinkowski, Rennie Austin and John Mason a picture of the Roman amphitheatre at Nimes, one of the best preserved of Roman monuments in Gaul. Dr. Fredrick's lecture showed the relation of Latin studies to the study of modern romance cultures.

Classical's Spanish Club has acquired quite a collection of artifacts from Spain and Mexico. Admiring a few of them are Jeffrey Brothers, Janis Berger, Bruce Meisner, Ronnie Erlich, Jay Freedman, Judy Murphy, Douglas Fauntleroy, Antonio DiMichele, Marlene Brusnicki, and Mary Rodriguez.

LOS CONQUISTADORES

Adviser: Mrs. Martha Cobb

Time and Place of Meeting: The first Monday of every month in room 241

Officers: President ..... Carol Trask
Vice-President ..... Judy Murphy
Secretary ..... Sonia Harris
Treasurer ..... Antonio DiMichele

Purpose of Club: To acquaint Spanish students with the language and customs of Spanish speaking countries.

Activities: Los Conquistadores, the Spanish Club, has been very busy this year absorbing Spanish culture. At their monthly meetings the members have enjoyed such varied programs as a flamenco dancer, Spanish movies, skits in Spanish, guest lecturers, and a fiesta. At the fiesta the students did the Mexican Hat Dance and played traditional Spanish games.

The German Club tries to interest its members in current affairs problems which influence West Germany. Helena Loczychi, Linda Olds, and Karen Magnani are reading an article about higher education in Germany.

GERMAN CLUB

Adviser: Mrs. Erika Corbin

Time and Place of Meeting: Second and fourth Thursdays of every month in room 120

Officers: President ..... Francis Franquelli
 Vice-President ..... Allan Meyers
 Secretary-Treasurer ..... Linda Olds
 Program Committee ..... Volker Bartholomai, Robert Hammer,
 Geli Konczal, Karen Magnani

Purpose To acquaint students with the German language, customs and people.

Activities: Weihnachtslieder and Platzchen gave the German Club Christmas party an authentic European atmosphere. Through speakers, slides, cultral films, and skits, the "Teutons" have steeped themselves in the daily life and traditions of Germany. One lively session of the club was devoted to a "jam session" with German records. To promote an interest in the German language, the members planned an exchange between club members and German students both here and abroad. After all this, German Club members should become familiar with Germany and its culture.

Volker Bartholomai is describing the locations of several places of interest on a map of Germany. Francis Frenquelli, Robert Hammer, Helena Loczychi, and Geli Konczal are trying to get Volker to tell them about life along the Rhine.

Among the Hebrew Club's many activities was the production of a play entitled South Persia. The story concerns the feast of Purim and the epic tale of Queen Esther, the Jewess. Shown rehearsing their parts are Sandra Petlock, June Solomon, and Roberta Allen. In the background is an advertisement for an Israeli cruise ship.

HEBREW CLUB

Adviser: Dr. Philip Miller

Time and Place of Meeting: Third or fourth Tuesday every month in room 327

Officers: President ..... Norman Cohn
Vice-President ..... Arline Horowitz
Secretary ..... Roberta Allen
Treasurer ..... Evan Bellin

Purpose: To acquaint the members with the culture and life of ancient and modern Israel and the role that the Hebrew language has in this development.

Activities: Through plays, projects, and parties, the Hebrew Club makes its members familiar with life in modern Israel and with the development of Hebrew culture. The club presented two plays, Water in the Negev, about the settling of Israel, and South Persia, a musical about the feast of Purim. For the third year, the club planned a tree-planting project in the Freedom Forest in Israel. One of the highlights of the year was the annual Hanukkah party.

The Hebrew Club is very concerned with helping Israel grow by developing interest in the Hebrew University. Norman Cohen, Arlene Horowitz, and Barry Axler are studying a poster put out by the University to advertise its admissions program.

For the first time in the history of the Art Club, the members decided to hold a Fine Arts Festival. This Festival was held in the library last May 16-17. At the festival students were given the opportunity to purchase reproductions of the masters in brush-stroke prints and classical and folk recordings. Through the students' overwhelming support, the Fine Arts Festival was a huge success.

To stimulate the advertising of the festival, a poster contest was held in the loggia. The second, third, and fourth posters from the left were the winners.

ART CLUB

Adviser: Mrs. Helena Laramée

Time and Place of Meeting: Wednesday, period 1, in the Art Studio in room 311

Officers: President ..... Theodore Ek
Vice-President ..... Sandra Bristol
Treasurer ..... Frank Eaton
Secretary ..... Judy Freeman

Purpose of Club: To promote extra and more advanced activity on the part of the seriously interested art students who have had one year in the Art Department.

Activities: One of the most active clubs at Classical, the Art Club has helped make halls more cheerful by the many beautiful and varied displays. The club planned and produced the intricate scenery for Carousel. The Art Club held its annual Christmas Sale including paintings and drawings, Christmas balls, wreaths, decorated packages, all made by the students. The purpose of the sale was to earn money to buy films for the Visual-Aids Art Library. In February the Art Club went to Boston to visit art schools, the Museum of Fine Arts, the Isabella Stuart Gardner Museum, and the Scholastic Art Awards exhibition. As its last activity of the year, the club visited an artist colony on Cape Ann.

Robin Teitel and Ted Ek are preparing the booth for the Club's annual Christmas sale.

FUTURE TEACHERS CLUB

Adviser: Miss Mary Morris

Time and Place of Meeting: First Wednesday of every month after school in room 238

Officers: President ..... Carol Trask
Vice-President ..... Barbara-Jean Kubik
Secretary ..... Eunice Barlow
Treasurer ..... Theresa Falcone
Program Chairman ..... Nancy Allen
Publicity Chairman ..... John Thomas

Purpose: To acquaint students with teaching as a possible career.

Activities: The members of the Future Teachers Club have invited as guest speakers men and women who have made a career in education. The club members' visits to nearby colleges have provided the students with first-hand knowledge of the educational requirements for their chosen career.

HONOR SOCIETY

Adviser: Dr. Edna Fredrick

Time and Place of Meeting: Second homeroom period once a month in room 218

Officers:      Sept. to Jan.      Feb. to June

President      Douglas Clark      Barry Chase

Vice-President Paula Robbins      Laura Wessman

Secretary      Barbara-Jean Kubik      Gail Solin

Purpose: To recognize students who are outstanding in character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

Activities: In the fall of 1962, the William C. Hill Chapter of the National Honor Society held an assembly to induct seniors who had maintained a 3.5 average or higher. Seniors with a 3.25 average or higher were inducted at the end of 1963 and juniors with a 3.75 average or higher were inducted in March, 1963. In January members of the National Honor Society elected officers for the second semester. Only seniors were considered as candidates, although probationary members were allowed to vote. This year nine senior members qualified as semi-finalists in the NHS scholarship program. The candidates are Andrea Aranow, Naomi Bloom, Barry Chase, Douglas Clark, Robert Hammer, Sharlene Katz, Richard Marcuson, Geoffrey Neigher, and Joyce Widland. In March the organization held a book fair to raise money in order to buy books for the school library in honor of outstanding students.

These are the officers for the two halves of the year: (seated) Gail Solin; (standing) Douglas Clark, Paula Robbins, Barry Chase, and Barbara-Jean Kubik. Absent when the picture was

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

Adviser: Mr. Milton Corbin

Time and Place of Meeting: Approximately every three weeks during assembly periods

Officers: President ..... Elizabeth Freedman
 Vice-President ..... Barbara-Jean Kubik
 Secretary ..... Lynn Hennessey
 Treasurer ..... Elisse Allinson
 Program Co-chairmen ..... Cynthia Pease,
 Carol Runsdorff

Purpose: To acquaint members with the customs and ideas of other countries.

Activities: Undoubtedly one of the largest clubs at Classical, the International Relations Club helps its members understand the mores of foreign countries in our modern world. At the meetings, guests speak and show slides or films of their travels. Two outstanding activities of I.R.C. are the annual trip to the United Nations headquarters during spring vacation and the awarding of two one-hundred dollar scholarships each year to deserving seniors who have been members of the club for two years.

Mr. Freme awards the two annual I.R.C. scholarships to Nancy Gordan and Dorothy Hamer.

Officers: President ..... Bruce Meisner
 Vice-President ..... Daniel Fitzgerald
 Recording Secretary ..... Linda Olds
 Corresponding Secretary ..... Beth Cohn
 Program Chairmen ..... John Lyons,
 David Sullivan

Purpose: To stimulate an interest in historical study and research outside the classroom and promote study of local history.

Activities: For many years there had been no History Club at Classical High. However, this past year, interested students have taken successful action in organizing the present club. As a new club at Classical, the History Club has shown that students do have a serious interest in many kinds of history. Our program included a talk by Professor John Mitchell of American International College and trips to the Pynchon Museum, where members studied Springfield as an example of a typical colonial settlement, and attended a Seminar held in the Museum Library.

Adviser: Mr. Stanley Mulak

Time and Place of Meeting: Thursday after school in room 324

Officers: President ..... Christopher Scott
Vice-President ..... Peter Krause
Secretary ..... Ronald Weiss
Treasurer ..... Robert Ford

Purpose of Club: To allow students interested in science, particularly physics, to pursue their interests beyond the scope of school science courses.

Activities: Through an interesting program of experiments, lectures, field trips, films, and discussions, Science Club members are exposed to the various aspects of physics and allied subjects. They also assist the teachers of the Science Department by doing odd jobs such as cleaning apparatus, assembling projects, and sorting equipment. Individualism is given wide scope in the "personal project plan." Each member works on one project such as the falling body tower, the torsion pendulum, and an inertial drive mechanism.

One of the phases taken up in the Science Club is electricity. Here Robert Ford explains the various parts of the electrical board to Linda Giannasi.

BIOLOGY CLUB

Adviser: Mr. James O'Donnell

Time and Place of Meeting: Second and fourth Tuesday of the month in room 314

Officers: President ..... Lenore Rosenfield

Vice-President Karen Hammerlof

Secretary ..... Adrienne Austin

Treasurer ..... Irene Janeczek

Purpose of Club: To explore in more detail the topics and techniques which are developed in the classroom and laboratory.

Activities: This year the club has seen several films including Unseen Enemies and The Life of Molds. Members have heard speakers on oceanography, medical education, conservation and the lice. They have also taken trips to places such as the Springfield Hospital and the American International College science laboratories. On alternate afternoons they have conducted experiments on Drosophila melanogaster, regeneration, physiological processes in blood, chemoreceptors, and animal metabolism. In spite of all these activities the members find time to be laboratory assistants for the classroom laboratory periods.

In the Biology Club students are given the chance to pursue their interests in biology. Stuart Grant and Alan Barr prepare an incubator for an experiment in chick hatching.

Rennie Austin, using a model, explains the components of a cell to Irene DuBiel and Karen Hammerlof.

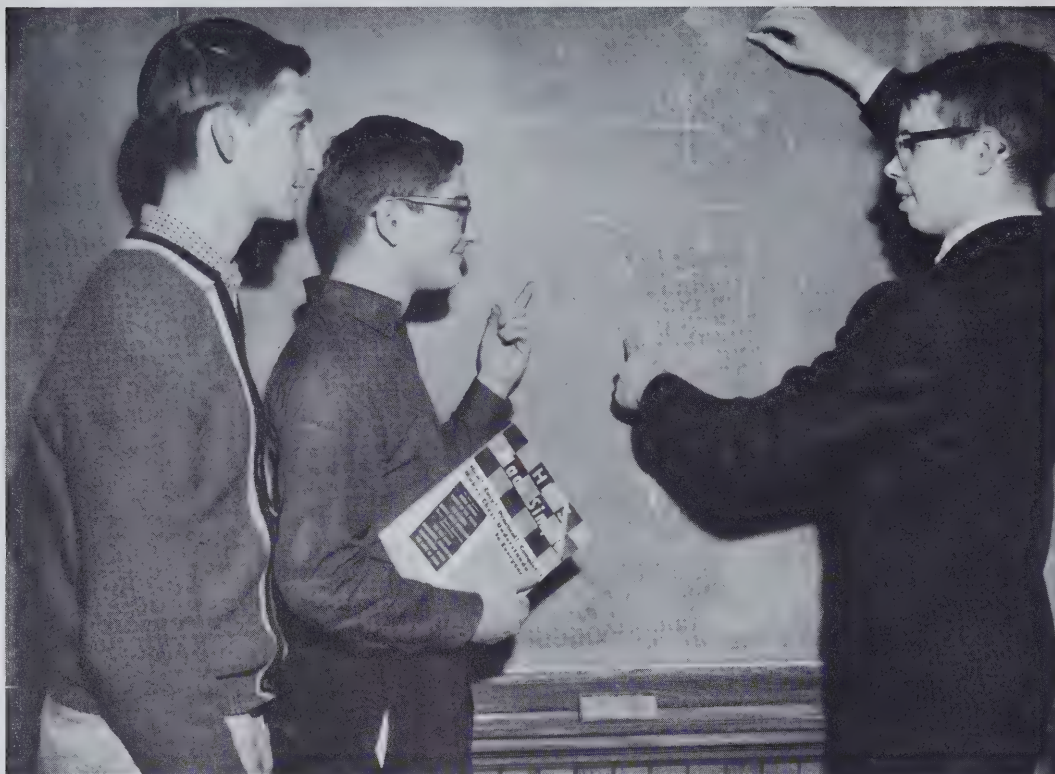

Dissecting various specimens is an important phase in biology. Lenore Rosenfield, Elaine Ciak, Stuart Grant, and Alan Barr are dissecting a sheep's eye.

Not only do the members play chess for enjoyment, but they also learn more about the game and difficult plays. Christopher Scott explains to Kenneth Sinclair and Jeffrey Brothers what move to make in a difficult situation.

CHESS CLUB

Adviser: Mr. Donald Leger

Time and Place of Meeting: After school at 2:45 in room 117 on Tuesdays

Officers: Because of our round-table type of club, the Chess Club has no officers.

Purpose of Club: The Chess Club was organized to teach interested students the principles of the game and to give them practice in playing.

Activities: Members of the Chess Club have matches among themselves and in this way have gained valuable experience needed for their numerous challengers. In order to decide who plays whom, a special rating system is used whereby competing players receive or lose points according to the rating of other members. At the matches, those having the highest point value play the toughest opponents. Classical organizations, such as the Recorder, boasting of their ability at chess, have challenged the Chess Club members only to be thoroughly defeated. The Classical Chess Club, participating in the Western Massachusetts Chess League, planned matches with such schools as Tech, Agawam, Chicopee, and East Longmeadow.

As the name implies, chess is played at the Chess Club meetings. Deeply engrossed in their game are Edward Cohen and Linda Bailey.

Although the Future Nurses Club just organized in January, the turnout has been gratifying. The members are (row 1) Ann-Marie Marratta, Jill MacDonald, Patricia LaChance, Judith Clayton, Sharon Traft; (row 2) Donna Howe, Connie Rinehart, Geraldene

FUTURE NURSES CLUB

Adviser: Mrs. Margaret Ramos

Time and Place of Meeting: The last Wednesday of every month in room 227

Officers: President ..... Anne-Marie Marratta
Vice-President ..... Jill MacDonald
Secretary ..... Patricia LaChance
Treasurer ..... Sharon Traft

Purpose: To provide an opportunity for students interested in nursing and other medical careers to explore the medical field together.

Activities: Anyone who needs first aid might look to the newly-formed Future Nurses Club. Members have taken trips to hospitals and medical centers to learn more about their future profession. The Future Nurses have also listened to guest speakers and watched interesting films. As a new organization, the Future Nurses have had an active year.

Another save for Halperin! Goalie Mark Halperin leaps into the air to prevent a Ludlow goal, as George Hanst and Ray Durocher watch. During the season, Mark allowed fewer goals than any other goalie in the city. At the end of the season, he was named all-city goalie for the second consecutive year.

The Bulldog Booters equalled and bettered their performance of last year. Not only did they win the city crown, but they also battled Ludlow to a 1-1 tie for a co-championship of Western Massachusetts. In addition, Classical's record wasn't marred by even a single loss, and the only teams that tied them were powerful Longmeadow and Ludlow, and arch-rival Tech. Although soccer is predominantly a team sport, Classical had several "shinning lights." Mark Halperin, all-city goalie for two years, allowed an average of less than one goal a game against him. Paul Ciarcia, all-city right inside, and the team's leading scorer, had eleven goals in the last twelve games. Volker Bartholomai, and Lorin Tarr also deserve recognition for their efforts. At the end of the season, nine members of the varsity team were named to the all-city squad as regulars or alternates. With varsity athletes George Hanst, Wes Gardiner, Ron Dupuis, and Jeff Munsell returning, and a strong performance by the JV team, all indications point toward a strong soccer team in 1963-64.

The 1963 Junior Varsity soccer team is (kneeling) Larry Kelly, Gene Fantl, John Halbicht, Dave Donaldson, Mark Canter, Angelo Odato, Irwin Novak; (standing) Robert Guzowski, Mike

Gridsters break losing streak

Hampered by poor attendance at practice and early season antipathy, the football team had a relatively unsuccessful year. However, there were several definite high points of the season. The 10-0 victory over the Red Raiders of Commerce marked the end of a 15 game losing streak that had spanned three seasons. It was head coach Phil Hart's first victory at the Classical helm. With their confidence and pride bolstered by this victory, the gridsters set out for upsets. Although they were unsuccessful, Classical put a big scare into Lee and Holyoke Catholic, and almost defeated a stronger and cockier band of Longmeadow Lancers. Next year's outlook is much better, however. Among the brightest spots on the varsity team were several freshmen and juniors. Fleet back Danny Morgeson promises to be very strong, as does deadly accurate quarterback John Pradella. The line will be made solid with Bob LaGasse, John Johnson, and Harry Royle. Along with senior Rick Van Vleet, LaGasse did a creditable job of smothering Trade's all-city back Al Jones. Now that the losing streak is broken, coach Hart has set his sights on a winning season.

On the move toward the goal line, a Classical back tears through a Trade line. Although rushes like this were quite effective, most of Classical's attacks were airborne. Quarterback Pradella always had willing receivers in fleet-footed John Elliot and Dan Morgeson.

A history-making team, these tough gridsters broke a fifteen game losing streak, and restored some of Classical's dignity with a 10-0 victory over Commerce.

All teams are inspired by the cheerleaders.

After a rather discouraging 1962 season, the Bulldog hoopsters made amends in 1963. Last year, the 'Dogs were last in the City loop, and had a winless record. Coming out of the doldrums, the 1963 team placed third, and sported some impressive wins. Led by the powerful front line of Geary, Sisitsky, and Fitzgerald, Classical shocked heavily favored Tech with a 58-51 initial victory, and came around for a 49-46 second try. Called the city's most underrated team, Classical proved this in their last meeting with Commerce. Being favored, the Red Raiders were prepared for a romp: it never came. The Geary-Sisitsky team, aided by Phil Hart's shooting, and the fine defensive work of Jim Bousquet and John Young, kept the Raider's star, Henry Payne, under control. The game ended in a tie. Only after Geary and Sisitsky had fouled out, was Commerce able to eke out a 72-69 overtime victory.

In the overall standings, Classical did equally well. Last year's team had a 3-13 record. This was substantially bolstered to a 10-7 for this year. Outside of city competition, Classical suffered only one loss, Lee's 72-66 upset. Included among their victories was a drubbing of Agawam High in which a team scoring record of ninety-four points was set. The Bulldogs bid farewell to this year's city competition with a 75-37 whitewashing of powerful Springfield Trade.

Classical had two individuals, Mark Sisitsky and Tom Geary, on the list of top scorers in Western Massachusetts. Coach Vaughan is expecting more from his team in the coming year, possibly even a city crown for Classical. Sharp-shooting Phil Hart, who battled his way into the starting lineup, will be leading the returning lettermen. Big Bill Zinolli, an excellent rebounder, George Hanst, and Kenny Davidson round out the returning juniors. In addition, Coach Phil Hart, Sr. produced a dream of a junior varsity team. The flashy Bulldog pups compiled an enviable record that was not marred by a single defeat! Leading this powerhouse team was the flashy Rutherford-Tucker-Johnson combination. All three of these boys, plus several other promising players, have two more years at Classical. At the end of the season, both Tom Geary and Mark Sisitsky were named to the All-City Team, making Classical the only twice-mentioned team in the city. These two boys also made honorable mention on the All-Western Mass. squad. With all these factors working in his favor, Coach Vaughan may well see his dream of a Championship Classical team come true within a year.

Members of the regular cheerleading squad are (kneeling) Margie Taft, Maxine Zimble, Bonnie Dickson, and Co-captain Janice Lombard. Row 2: Captain Joyce McCabe, Karen Augur, Mary Ellen Quigley, and Cathy Dunn.

Since the cheerleaders have given such great sparkle to the Classical sports teams, it is fitting to have them on the same page as the basketball team. Under the leadership of Captain Joyce McCabe and Co-captain Janice Lombard, the cheerleaders have sparked the Classical rooters and teams with pep and spirit at the sports events of the year. The effervescent squad has spent long hours practicing lively cheers and preparing short skits for Classical pep-rallies.

Eight juniors and seniors make up the regular squad, and four girls have been selected as substitutes. The girls are chosen each spring by members of the faculty and the senior cheerleaders. Interested freshman and junior girls attend a few practice sessions, then two eliminations are held followed by semi-finals and finals. The newly selected cheerleaders immediately start a rigorous schedule of practice to prepare them for next year's games.

The substitute cheerleaders for the 1962-1963 season are Row 1: Mari Dow and Janice Duffy. Row 2: Judy Goff and Dorothy Grady.

The baseball team scores decisive victories.

The members of the varsity baseball team were (row 1) Jim Bousquet, Kevin Ryan, Russ Holt, Ray Yando, Tony Odierna, and Joe Calcasola; (row 2) Rick Van Vleet, Danny Morgeson, John McCarthy, Clem Deschenes, Richard Cote, John Howe, and Aaron Stein.

Although the baseball team did not quite meet early season expectations, they did, nevertheless, put on a creditable performance. Led by standouts Ray Yando and Kevin Ryan, the Bulldogs added to Classical's laurels with victories over several strong league rivals such as a powerful Westfield team. At the end of the year, hard-hitting catcher Ray Yando made the all-city baseball team for the second time. Tony Odierna and Russ Holt also proved to be valuable team members. The biggest surprise, however, was furnished by the underclass team members. The junior class contributed steady first-sacker Jim Bousquet, speedy and powerful centerfielder Rick Van Vleet, and former JV stars Joe Calcasola and Rich Cote. The freshmen, too, contributed to the general excellence of the team. John McCarthy proved to be a good understudy for ace pitcher Russ Holt, and Danny Morgeson was used to plug many gaps in the infield. Both of these boys show great promise for the future. With this very strong team of freshmen and juniors returning, Coach Young is indeed looking forward to a strong 1963 season. Another important reason for his optimism is the exceptional JV team. Under the guidance of Coach Smith, borrowed from Duggan Jr. High, the team forged its way through city competition. Against local teams, the junior 'Dogs were undefeated, and had only one "black mark" on their record, a tie with a powerful Tech team. The team was especially strong in the pitching department. Jim Podworski, Steve Kaplan, and George Hanst showed their capabilities on the mound as well as behind the plate. Bill Zanolli, Bill Andros, and John Cooper also demonstrated outstanding ability. This one-two punch of veterans and new-comers may mean a winning team in '63.

The Junior Varsity has "Great Expectations" for next year.

Hard slugging catcher Ray Yando follows through and connects for a hit as a rather dismayed catcher looks on. Ray made the all-city squad for the second time.

Members of the 1962 JV baseball team were (standing) Steve Kaplan, Skip Houghton, Buzz Doten, George Hanst, Jim Podworski, Bill Zanolli, John Topodas, Bob Hyland, Bill Andros,

Bulldog bowlers "strike out"

Under the direction of Coach Jermakian, the bowling team meets at the Rose Bowl for practice. The bowling team participates in a league made up of city schools. The league play is subdivided into two rounds. In the overall records, Classical sports 50 wins as opposed to 30 losses. They did slightly better in the first round with a 26-14, second place record. In the second round, they dropped to 24-16 and third place. Since bowling is a sport that requires a minimum of team effort, much credit should be given to individuals. Team captain Jim Podworski led all team members with an average of 107 points per game. Junior Bill Andros with 103, and freshman Ed Gray with 100, were the other team members with three digit averages. With four returning lettermen, and a strong JV, the Bulldogs will be "rolling along" next year.

Team members "serve" their school on the tennis team.

Members of the 1962 tennis team were (kneeling) Marc Fredman, Chuck Benson, Bob Hawley, and Gale Holt; (standing) Clarence Bennett, Coach Phil Hart, and Mark Halperin.

Classical remained the dominating tennis power in Western Massachusetts. Coach Phil Hart, in his first year as the team's coach, brought the netmen through an undefeated season. Classical breezed through the rounds of city opponents with little trouble, and handily defeated such out of town rivals as West Side and Longmeadow. Although hampered by lack of good courts, Classical's dominance was never threatened. Although there is a strong team feeling, tennis is basically an individual sport, and individual excellence is necessary for success. Classical had many individual standouts. The core of the tennis team was the aggressive seniors on the team. The outstanding singles and doubles play of Bob Hawley, Chuck Benson, Marc Freedman, and Gale Holt was a key factor in the victory formula. Not to be outdone, the underclassmen produced some fine tennis talent. Junior Mark Halperin promises to be one of the city's leading players next year. At the end of the season, after a fine showing, Mark took part in the State Tennis Tournament at Williams College in Williamstown. Freshman Clarence "Junior" Bennett will be another league leader. Although their titanship will be threatened by a powerful Cathedral team, Classical is hoping for a strong 1963 season.

Hampered by poor weather in the beginning of the season, the crew team did not fare as well as expected. Since Classical is one of the few New England public schools with a crew, their competition is limited to Tech and certain college freshman teams. The team did, however, register important victories over Tech teams. At the end of the season, a team made up of the Classical freshman all-stars defeated a similar Tech team by one and one-half lengths. Coach Zahner, who made the transfer from Tech just this year, feels very confident about the team's chances in 1963. Since he had four freshmen and two juniors on his varsity team, and a strong JV, he looks forward to a winning crew. Kevin McCook, Paul Sloan, Alex McCarthy, Pete Montori, and Ken Nicholson deserve recognition for their fine work.

The track team develops strong bodies.

Despite some early season concern about the turnout at practices, the Bulldog cindermen managed to complete a successful season. In seven track meets with other local teams, Classical came out on the long end of a four and three record. Following the long tradition of the track and field events, Classical athletes excelled in the running events and the decathlon, but were overshadowed in such events as the discus and shot put. Since the overall score in a track meet is compiled on the basis of individual accomplishment, a good deal of credit must be given to individual standouts.

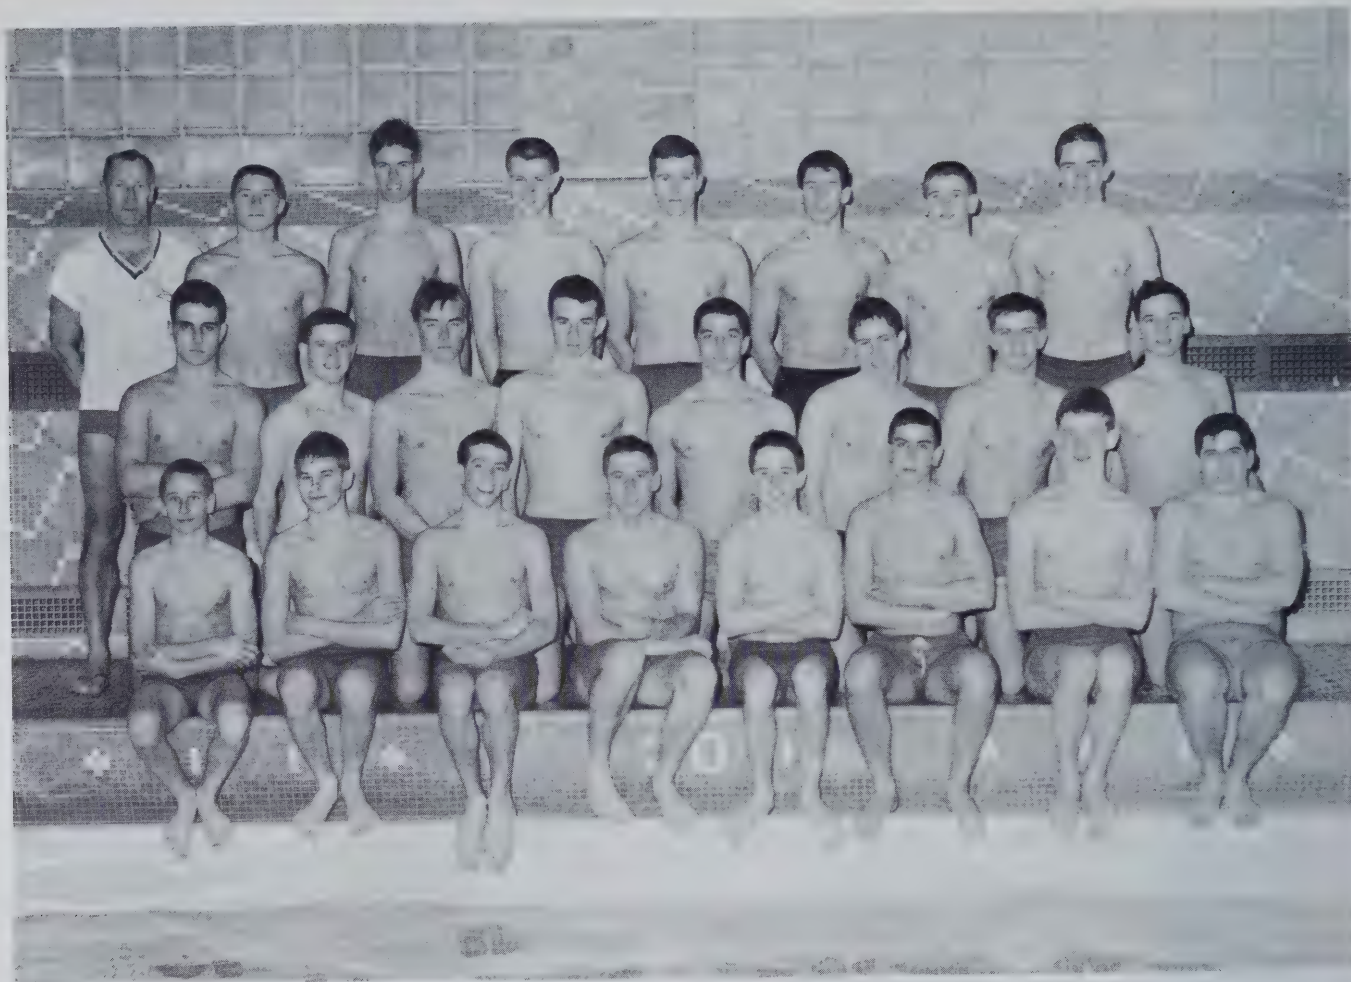

Speedy Howie Ricklas showed that his prowess wasn't limited to the soccer field by his many fleet sprints. Especially noteworthy was high hurdles specialist John Elliot. Not only did John surpass all inter-city rivalry, but he also won this event in the Western Massachusetts track meet. Track did not, however, hold much attraction for freshmen, since there were only two on the team. It is this fact, along with the limited number of seasoned juniors that leaves the team with a lack of depth. Despite this, however, Coach Vaughan plans to have another winning team in '63.

John Young grimaces as he clears the hurdles in one of the track and field events. Appraising his jumps are Lorin Tarr, while John Elliot and Louis Dedousis look on.

Swimmers demonstrate aquatic ability on the swimming team.

The members of the 1962-63 swimming team are (seated) Andy Hayes, Dick Campbell, Howie Uman, Dick Fullerton, Curt Brossmer, Jerry Goodman, Philip Guepp, Ronnie Grodsky: (kneeling) Gene Geigel, Barry Izenstein, Charles Zimmerly, Alex McCarthy,

Although not quite as strong as last year, the Classical Mermen had a successful year. Sparked during the year by several very fine freshmen and juniors, Coach Wulff will be aiming for league championship next year. Finishing third in the Pioneer Valley Swimming League, the Bulldogs frequently behaved like champions. Among their many victories was a triumph over a perennially strong Tech team. Classical came in third in the Western Mass. Championship and seventh in the All-State Meet. In these meets, swimmers Bridgman, Fitzgerald, Schlosser, and Rappaport, and diver Shapiro made especially noteworthy performances.

Members of the 1963 varsity rifle team are Captain Allan Meyers, Kathy Robertson, Kent Servis, Bill Neigher, Larry Stutz, Mike Solin, and Captain Danny Solo.

Every Tuesday and Friday from September to May, the varsity and J.V. rifle teams, under the supervision of Coaches Wessman and Fleming, meet at the Trade High rifle range. The purpose of the team is two-fold: to promote the members' interests in marksmanship, and to provide a competitive outlet for shooting. The team has improved greatly over last year, and expects great success in the inter-school matches with Trade and Tech, and in other matches planned for later on. Because the team is also an accredited Junior Rifle Club, the team members also have the right to qualify for the various National Rifle Association honors and qualifications. Since the team has no seniors, the outlook for next year is very good. The several prominent freshmen on the team may mean league dominance for the Bulldog shooters in 1963.

Hockey team places in state meet

Classical's hockey team was really the "Surprise of the year." After last year's successful season, Coach Peterson was expecting a slight let-down because of his team's youth. He couldn't have been more mistaken. The Bulldog skaters drove by all opponents except powerful Westfield to come in second in their league, the Wright Division. For their fine performance and their exhibitions of sportsmanship, Classical was invited to participate in the Schoolboy Hockey Tournament at Boston Garden. In this game, despite excellent play, the team bowed to more experienced Archbishop Cushing High of Boston. Three members of the team finished among the top ten scorers in Western Massachusetts. Of these, John McCarthy was the only defenseman in the group. As further proof of the team's excellence, two players, John McCarthy and Bobby Findlater were named to the All-Western Mass. first team. Six other players qualified to second team honors or honorable mention. Since only three key players will be leaving, and in view of the several "fabulous freshmen," Classical can expect an equally strong performance next year.

Grapplers show great promise

The 1963 wrestling team is Row 1: Ron Dupuis, Doug Hinckley, Captain Mike Gallus, Captain Bruce Chandler, Angelo Odato, and John Sheehan. Row 2: Captain Barry Pilver, Paul Raverta, Cliff Phaneuf, Paul Fenton, Richard Romboletti, Mark Berezin, Robin Phillips, Dave Bongiovanni, Frank Chrzanowski.

Unfortunately, wrestling proved to be somewhat of a disappointment this year. Several years ago, Classical was the dominant team in the city; however, the team seems now to be at the bottom of the cycle. Classical did, however, have some definite high spots this year. Coach Gallant's rather young grapplers showed a great deal of promise in their lone victory over Commerce. They also fared quite well in a match against Longmeadow; however, this match did not go on record since it was an agreed practice match. Many of the team members were freshmen; consequently, Classical will have a seasoned, and therefore better, team next year. At the end of the season, the Bulldogs placed their two most successful fighters in the city meet at Tech. Bob Gallus and Doug Hinckley both fought skillfully, and emerged runners-up in their respective classes.

Golfers enjoy a successful season

On the 1962 golf team were (kneeling) Demetrios Spelios, Walt Foerster, Howie Atkinson, and Ira Kowarsky; (standing) Bob Foerster, Neil Hasty, Dave Bongiovanni, and Coach Jermakian.

The Bulldog "duffers" came through in regal fashion in 1962. Led by seniors Howie Atkinson and Walt Foerster, they made the rounds of local golf courses, and emerged with a victorious record of six wins, three losses, and one tie. Because they were hampered at first by the new and difficult Memorial Golf Course, the individual scores were "below par," but by the end of the season, even this obstacle was overcome. In city competition, Classical defeated Trade, Commerce, and Cathedral, while bowing to powerful Tech. Coach Jermakian is planning on a very successful 1963 season. With seasoned junior Demetrios Spelios, and promising freshmen Dave Bongiovanni, Ira Kowarsky, Bob Foerster, and Neil Hasty returning, the Bulldogs can expect another fine showing next year.

Fore! Captain Howie Atkinson follows through on his drive. The team's top player, Howie has been called one of the most promising young players in Western Massachusetts.

Intra-mural league continues to grow

A fairly new institution at Classical, the intra-mural basketball league has proven to be a successful venture. Teams are made up by anyone interested in basketball; and the games are played during Wednesday and Friday Homeroom periods. The idea originated in the RECORDER sports section, and it is this body that manages the league. Some of the teams are from different Homerooms, and some from various student organizations. Although there are no spectators at these games, these contests have proven to be an outlet for various inherent rivalries. This year's league was made up of eight teams, all with rather bizarre names. There is no reason to expect a decrease in interest next year.

Student Leaders help the girls in physical education classes

pola, Judy Murphy, Tammy Vekshin, Lynn Kelberman, Linda Nystedt, Ingeborg Rath, Joyce Rivers, Linda Nassar, Nora Kane, Sandra Rae, Barbara Goodlatte, Nancy Allen, and Paula Dunham. Row 4: Carol Trask, Barbara-Jean Kubik, Anna Ladue, Renee Reisner, Susan Hechler, Carol Daponde, Kathryn Weinland, Jane McKenzie, Kathleen Ostroski, Sara Schenck, Susan Margeson, Gloria Williams, Jacqueline Lomas, Dorothy Grady, and Judy Goff.

STUDENT LEADERS

Go into any girls' gym class, and, among the sea of blue, you can pick out about six or eight girls characterized by their triangular Student Leader badges. These girls are selected by the gym teacher from among those girls who, at the end of their junior year, expressed a desire to be Student Leaders in their senior year.

The Student Leader performs many duties, of which the most important is assisting the gym teachers in every way possible. The Student Leader is able not only to gain valuable experience in sportsmanship and leadership by scoring, refereeing, and demonstrating skills, but also to continue the gym activities begun as freshmen and juniors.

to achieve agility through apparatus,

This past year in apparatus, a few new pieces were added to the equipment. One of these was the spring board which added to the excitement of performing vaults over the box, buck, and horse. Also rather new was the balance beam which was a different form of a test for the girls' abilities. A male group of gymnasts from Tech provided interesting entertainment for the G.A.A. in December with their various exhibitions on pieces of apparatus.

Pamela Finn demonstrates her skill on the balance beam by performing a difficult stunt.

With Anne Brand spotting, Cheryl Knowles executes a straddle vault, one of the more difficult stunts in apparatus, over the horse.

and the healthful exercise of field hockey.

Girls who participated in Field Hockey are Row 1: Constance Young, Terry Pevzner, Judy Rochford, Doreen Waltein, Nancy Stuart, Linda Taliaferro, and Janet Quimby. Row 2: Linda Olds, Mary Ann Jennings, Carol Nielson, Gail Harris, Linda Mazur, Dawn Evans, Joann Dearing. Row 3: Beverly Knight, Oralee Lamica, Melinda Smutek, Anna Ladue, Judy Murphy, Gail Haggerty, and Pamela Finn.

FIELD HOCKEY

The first after school girls' sports activity of the year, Field Hockey, began its season in September and continued through November. Field Hockey has always been a popular sport among the girls for several reasons. First of all, it is different and interesting, and calls for a great deal of skill. It also provides the freshmen a chance to get to know their upper classmen, as well as the technique of field hockey. During these field hockey gatherings which take place at the Springfield Armory, the girls are grouped into teams which play each other in a number of games. For each meeting of field hockey, the girls were awarded a point towards G.A.A. membership.

BASKETBALL

The outstanding events of the basketball season for the members of G.A.A. and the girls who attended the after school practice sessions were the exciting games with teams from Commerce and Technical High Schools. Although the girls did not fare so well as they had hoped, they nevertheless derived a great deal of enjoyment and experience from these games. The girls on team one were Iraline Green, Dawn Evans, Marlene Catron, Melinda Smutek, Sara Schenck, Kay Ostrowski, Carol Trask, Joyce Frisby, Gloria Williams, Janis Harmon, Judy Murphy, and Carol Daponde. The girls on team two were Carol Nielson, Janet Preston, Irene Mastroyin, Theresa Trela, Adrienne Cobb, Adonna Brien, Rose Giannini, Dell Mullens, Terry Haskins, and Terry Burnett.

Judy Murphy and Joyce Frisby take a jump ball as Adonna Brien and officiating Dawn Evans await the outcome.

In an exciting play, Gloria Williams and Marlene Catron struggle to keep the ball within bounds while teammate Iraline Green and opponents Carol Daponde and Ida Berman anxiously await the results.

The girls also enjoy the recreation of after-school bowling,

Although people such as Cheryl Knowles don't need very many lessons, a few hints from the experts at the Schine Ten Pin Bowl didn't do her any harm. Here she is shown getting into position to roll the ball. No doubt she is hoping for a strike to increase her score. Cheryl, one of the top scorers in bowling, is also active in the other G.A.A. activities.

As a change of pace, the traditional candlepin bowling activity was foregone so that interested girls could try out ten pin bowling. The Schine Inn Ten Pin Bowl gave the girls a very reasonable offer which included two strings of bowling and shoe rental for a discount price. A bus was also provided as transportation by the Schine for Mrs. Desrochers, the girls from Classical, and some other girls from Commerce who also took advantage of this opportunity to participate in ten pin bowling, which is rapidly becoming more popular than candlepin. Those girls who did not know how to bowl or who wanted to improve their game were given the additional benefit of free instruction, in which the girls were taught the proper approach to the alley, delivery of the ball, and the art of scorekeeping. Some of the girls who averaged particularly high were Carol Daponde, Cheryl Knowles, Bonnie Posner, Joyce Rivers, and Dawn Evans.

The proper method of scorekeeping is an essential part of bowling, and the various details are often confusing. Kay Sears and a friend are keeping the scores of the players. As long as the girls avoid hitting strikes and spares, Kay won't have much trouble. It's only when the girls hit strike after strike that the going gets rough.

take advantage of excellent modern dance training,

One of the attractions of the Modern Dance assembly held last year was the performance given by Robin Teitel and Barbara Ware. They are shown in a formation which illustrates the use of level to add interest to composition. Barbara and Robin and the other girls in their group danced to the music of the "Jet Song" from West Side Story.

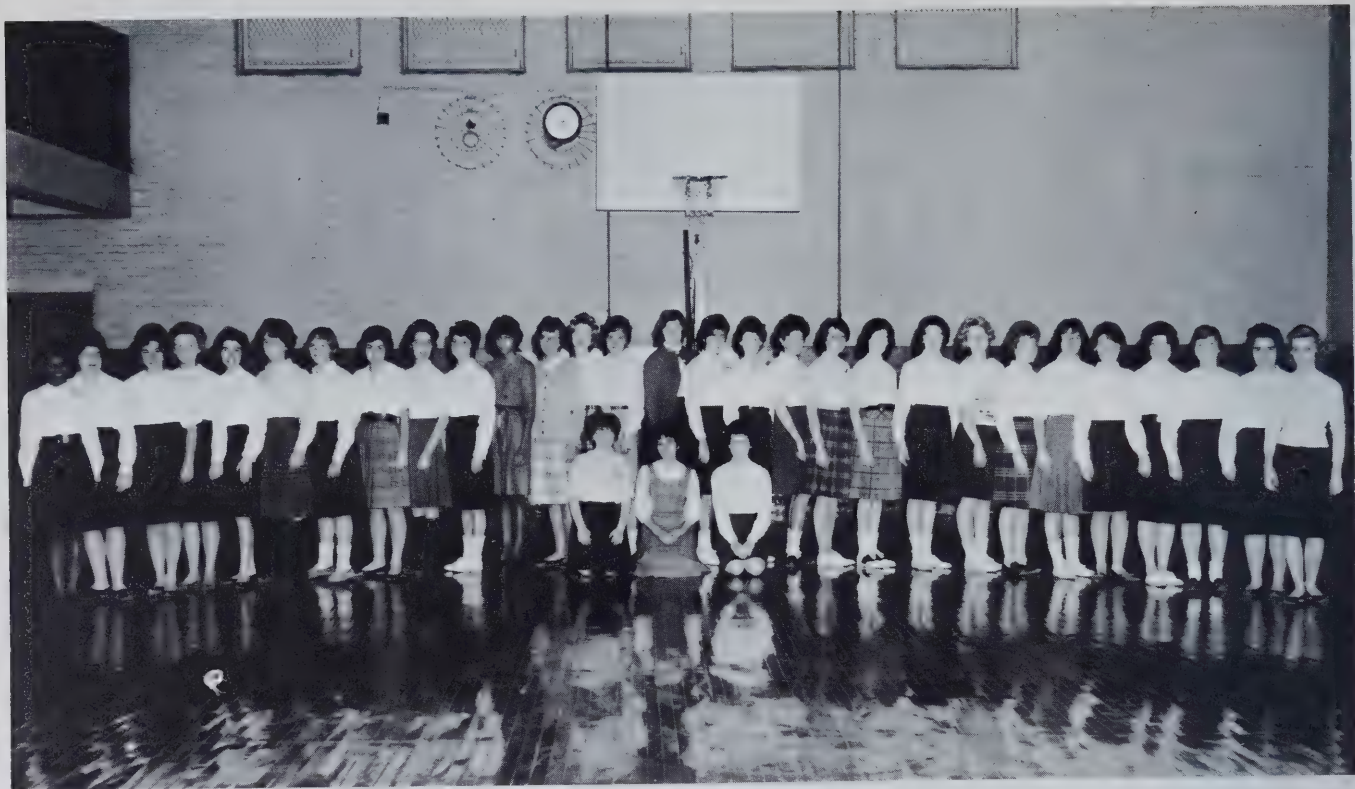

During the months of February and March, the junior and senior girls' gym classes and the G.A.A. participated in modern dancing. The girls began by learning the fundamental skills, including the various means of locomotion and the basic dance formations. Then the girls were divided into groups of five to ten girls each. In these groups, the girls were first required to pick out a record, such as the "Peter Gunn Theme," the "Jet Song" from West Side Story, and the "Theme from Moulin Rouge," then interpret the music in terms of choreography, and compose their own original dance. At the end of the dancing season, the dances were exhibited in the gym classes, and each individual group was given a mark by the gym teachers, based on originality, mechanics, and appropriateness of mood and movement. Four or five of the best were then selected, and an assembly was presented to the freshman, junior, and senior girls, during which these dances were performed.

There comes that time in every game when an enthusiastic bowler like Claudette Smith throws up her hands exasperatedly and wonders if she will make a good score.

march in the newly formed Drill Team,

The members of the Drill Team are (standing) Constance Rinehart, Geraldine Peck, Mary Roulind, Joyce Balbos, Paula Dunham, Joanne Coppola, Dawn Evans, Rose Kafantaris, Janet Orne, Jane Rubinwitch, Joyce Frisby, Birgitte Madsen, Sandra Bristol, Carol Bill, Judy Murphy, Pamela Finn, Linda Olds, Hannah

Perlstein, Kathryn Weinland, Mary Ellen Quirk, Jane McKenzie, Sara Schenck, Arlene Horowitz, Anna Ladue, Shirley Horowitz, Gloria Gray, Anne-Marie Marrata, Rosalind Warner, and Pamela Kerscher; (kneeling) Doreen Gagnon, Gloria Elkin, and Sue McCook.

Showing off their new drill team uniforms and performing a guide right are Kay Sears, Sara Schenck, Kathy Weinland, and Sandy Bristol.

and enjoy the privileges of membership in the G.A.A.

DRILL TEAM

During the 1962-1963 season, a new activity was made available to the Classical High School girls. The girls' Drill Team was formed under the direction of Mrs. Desrochers, who is now in charge of the team. Approximately thirty girls, juniors and seniors, are on the team. Try-outs were held in the spring for interested freshman and junior girls. After the try-outs, there were no drill practices until the fall. In September, the drill team organized, trained newcomers, learned new drills, and marched at the home football games during the fall and at the home basketball games during the winter. The drill team marched for the first time on February 5, putting on an excellent performance of intricate drills. The following Friday, the drill team made its debut at the Springfield College Field House where all spectators were pleased. The reason for such a late start was the problem of obtaining uniforms. In order to save money, the girls made part of their own uniforms, consisting of a blue kilt, a white blouse, a blue plaid sash with matching hat, and white sneakers and sock. In the future, most students will be able to recognize the Classical Drill Team by these unique uniforms and its well performed skills.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Girls' Athletic Association has not only been responsible for the after-school sports activities for girls, but it has also sponsored a candy sale and an outing for the members of G.A.A. A candy sale is held every year for some worthwhile purpose, and sometimes a prize is offered to the girl who sells the most candy bars. Toward the end of the 1962 school year, the girls took a trip to Misquamicut Beach for their outing.

To become a member of G.A.A. one only has to attend ten meetings of the after-school activities. For outstanding participation in these activities, juniors are awarded their class numerals, and freshmen are awarded their school letters. The juniors who had earned their class numerals in 1962 were Carol Daponde, Susan Margeson, Carol Trask, and Judy Murphy. The freshmen who had earned their school letters in the same year were Rosalie Desotell, Dawn Evans, Patricia LaChance, Linda Olds, and Doris Williams.

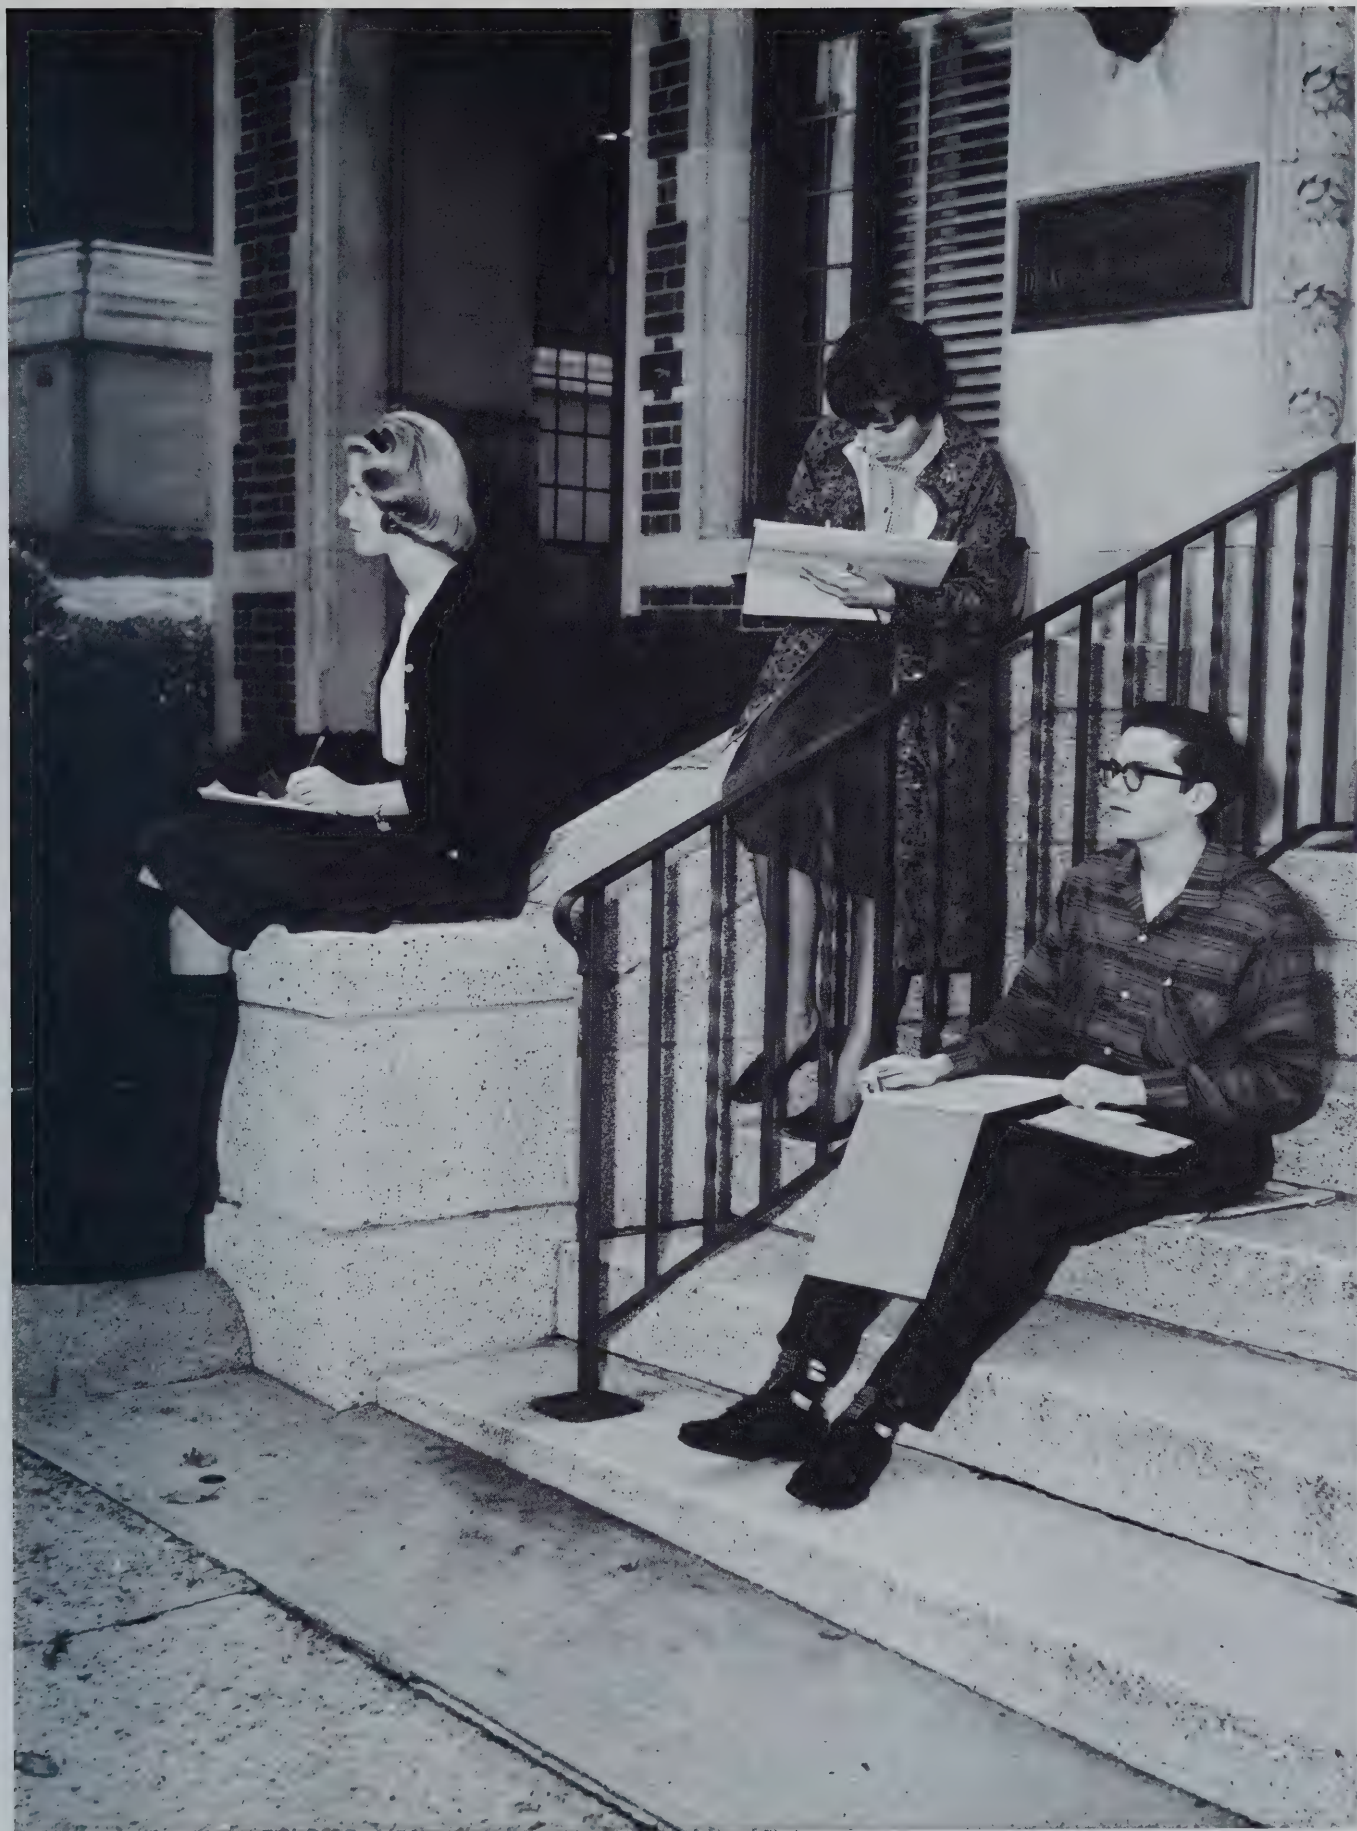

The G.A.A. council and officers are Carol Trask, Jill MacDonald, Susan Margeson, Gail Haggerty, Judy Murphy, Linda Olds, Carol Daponde, Pamela Finn, Linda Mazur and Theresa Falcone.

Students and faculty recall many pleasant occasions

As they reflect on 1962 and 1963 at Classical, students and faculty will recall many pleasant occasions. Some of these events took place too late to be included in the preceding sections of The Blue and White. The staff therefore has chosen to call this supplement an addenda, "that which is added."

It seems fitting also at this point to explain the pictures chosen for the division pages.

On page 7 John Houlilian has just presented Mr. Montagna with a painting purchased at the recent Art Festival held at Classical. The picture on page 33 was taken between classes as students pass from one class to another. The unusual picture on page 89 was inspired by the "reflections" which the members of the staff who sat in the first two rows saw of themselves in the rim of the tuba played by a member of the band. The reflections are those of Barbara Tuber, Vivian Tremontozzi, Peter Herndon, Pamela Rice, Sue Margeson, John Lyons, Louise Newton and Irene DuBiel. One fall morning one of Mrs. Laramie's art classes set out to sketch what they saw on State Street. In the picture on page 153 Virginia Turkowski and Roger Blackmer are sketching the Federal Land Bank across the street.

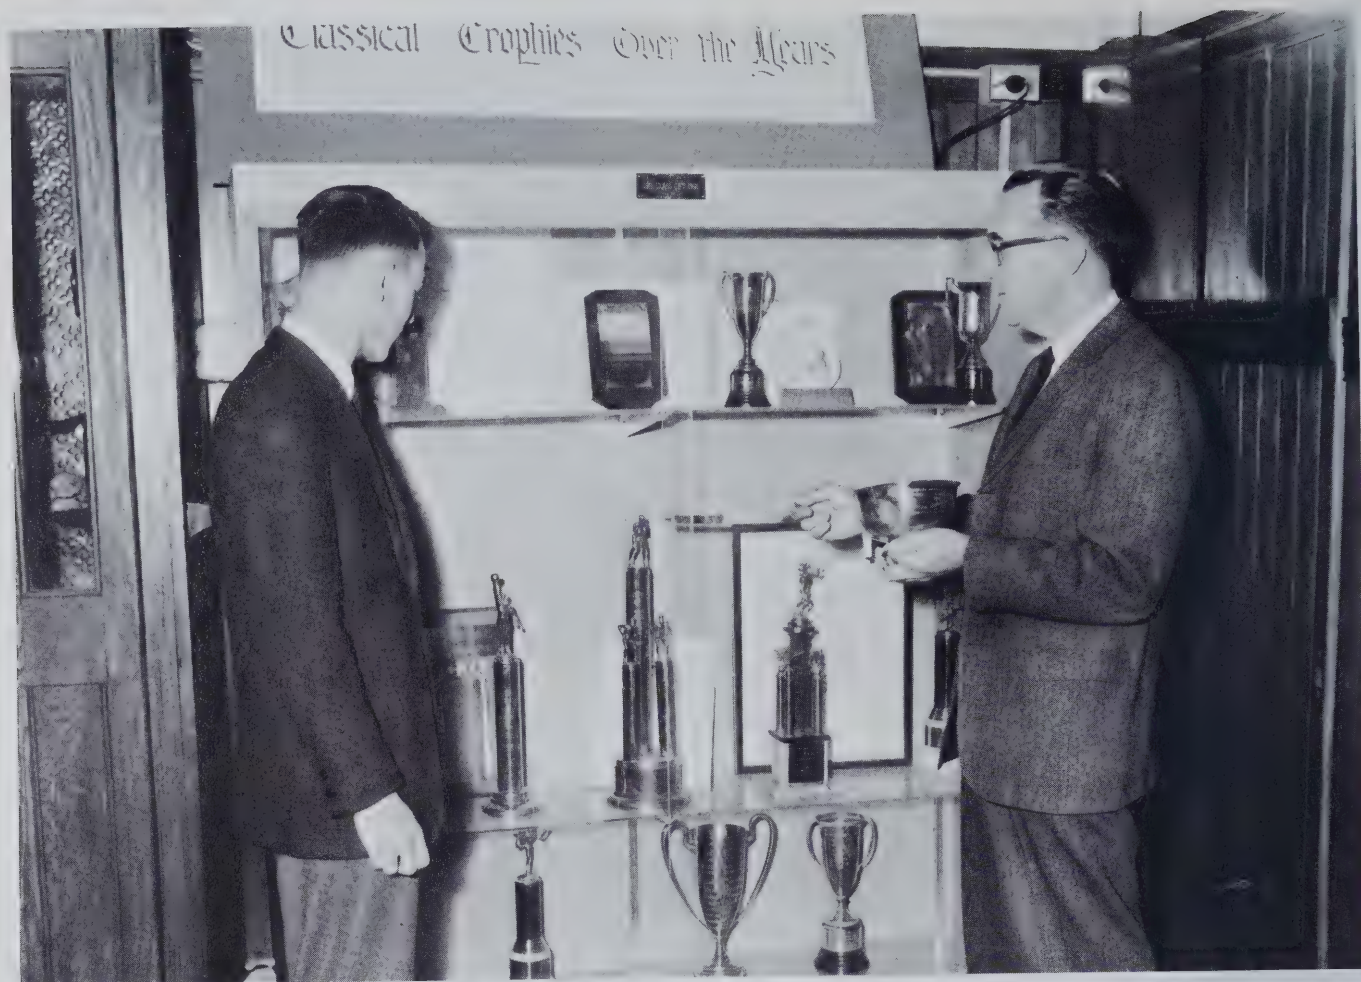

Through work on this addenda five freshmen girls, Linda Bailey, Carole Michaels, Janet Quimby, Katherine Robertson and Jean Valenti, have been initiated into the work required from the Blue and White Staff.

The picture below records an exciting moment at Classical when a flag was presented to Classical by Officer Brennan and Commander Bella of the American Legion, post 21. This flag was flown over the Capitol in Washington, D.C., and was obtained through the efforts of Congressman Edward P. Boland, a Classical graduate. Holding the fifty star flag are Americanizations officers Brennan of the American Legion, Mr. Freme, Peter Cokkinias, and Commander Joseph Bella.

A place of honor for Classical's awards

Mr. Montagna shows John Lyons one of the latest tennis awards.

Since Classical had long needed a suitable place to exhibit its many awards, the classes of 1961 and 1962 decided to give the school a trophy case.

Now a handsome glass case near the front entrance to the building holds many awards, both old and new, for academic and athletic accomplishments. These include the Freedoms Foundation Award for 1958, an award to the Classical band for the outstanding unit in the 1962 St. Patrick's Day Parade, the Western Massachusetts High School Soccer Tournament Co-championship for 1962, and the Western Massachusetts High School Tennis Tournament team runner-up. The earliest award presently on display in the trophy case is a first prize for an eight-oar race in 1903.

MASSACHUSETTS TO MEXICO

During the school year of 1961-1962 Mrs. Cobb's Spanish classes began a project designed to increase knowledge and fluency in Spanish and understanding of the Latin American peoples which eventually consisted of a three week trip to Mexico for thirteen students (four from other schools), and a two week pre-session summer course at the inter American University in Saltillo, Mexico.

Arriving in Saltillo by June 17, 1962 they were placed in Mexican homes, and soon thereafter registered for three or four courses in language, grammar, literature, history or perhaps ceramics, Mexican cookery, painting, or guitar playing. The classes, lasting from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., were all conducted in Spanish by native teachers.

A native tutor was assigned to each student and spent two hours with the student for five days a week. Provided that they spoke Spanish they could, accompanied by their tutors, go horseback riding or swimming.

Afternoons from one o'clock to four o'clock was siesta time which could be spent in reading, writing letters home to family, listening to records, getting acquainted with their Mexican family, or sleeping.

In Mexico City for a week, the students stayed at the Hotel Ambassador and saw many interesting sights and even a bull fight! They saw the President and Mrs. Kennedy who were there for the week-end.

Classical students who participated in this trip were (seated) Jane Silvia, Carolyn Chmura, Lily Williams, and Judith Murphy; (standing) Richard Volk, Neil Newman, Judith Denault, John Breck, Diane Nickerson, and Mrs. Cobb.

Art students attracted the attention of the community

An attempt to meet a definite civic need — understanding and appreciation of our immediate environment of Springfield itself — resulted in an outdoor drawing class for the students in advanced art courses at Classical High School. On their way are Michael Jacques, Bruce Chandler, Beverly Gallant, Virginia Zurowski, Kathleen Loughman, Robert Forester, Robin Teitel, Linda Cohen, Jean Constantino, Ilse Willard, Peggy Burke, William Wajda, Thomas Hannigan, and Frank Eaton.

These students for the first time became, through an on the spot drawing, acutely aware of the beauty, historic significance, and handskill necessary to capture fine architecture they pass daily but have never seen before. Sitting down on the curb are Joyce Lichwala, JoAnn Kramarz, Christine Gallanis and Frank Eaton. Mrs. Laramie gives helpful suggestions.

While the weather permitted, for four fifty-minute periods a week, this group drew the Masonic Temple, The Farm Credit Bank, the U.S. Armory (now a National Land Mark) environs, the Linden House and the Travel Bureau next to the school. Busily sketching the Farm Credit Banks are Tom Hannigan, Bob Forester, Kathy Loughman, Jane Sirulnik, William Wajda, Linda Cohen, and Beverly Gallant.

as they sketched famous Springfield land marks

Mr. Donald Benson of the Farm Credit Bank became interested in our activities, and one of Springfield's noted architects, Mr. Wallace E. Dibble, designer of the building formerly known as the Federal Land Bank, offered a fine prize for the best drawing of his handsome Georgian edifice.

Enthusiasm ran so high that the prize had to be divided three ways, with Michael Jacques receiving first prize, and Theodore Ek and Bruce Chandler tied for second place.

The group anxiously awaits spring to resume this fascinating, informative, and challenging phase of their study of art at Classical.

Boston Globe Scholastic Art Exhibition is held annually at the Boston University of Fine and Applied Arts. It is the regional exhibition of a national contest sponsored by the Boston Globe. Students throughout the Massachusetts area submitted some 3250 entries; of these 772 were chosen for the show. This year Classical High had eight students chosen to exhibit: Sandra C. Bristol, Bruce

T. Chandler, Jean Constantino, Theodore Ek, Joann Kramarz, Pauline Perreault, Ilse Willard, and William Winship. Sandra C. Bristol and Bruce T. Chandler received the Gold Key and Blue Ribbon awards. The Gold Key, lapel pin, is the highest regional award. The Blue Ribbon entitles the work to be sent to New York to compete in the National High School Art show in the spring.

The Honor Society sponsors a book fair

Looking over titles Paula Robbins, Barbara-Jean Kubik, Edward Jotkowitz, Naomi Bloom, and Elizabeth Freedman helped students make their purchases at the Book Fair.

On March 20 and 21 the William C. Hill Chapter of the National Honor Society sponsored a very successful book sale in the library. Proceeds from the fair were used to buy books for the school library in honor of outstanding seniors. Members of the Honor Society volunteered to serve as cashiers and aides during their free periods and after school.

The Fine Arts Festival

The Fine Arts Festival sponsored by the Art Club, presented the school with an opportunity to buy, most reasonably, excellent full-color reproductions of the world's greatest paintings. At the same time a Poster Contest provided incentive for a competitive heralding of the event. Winners were Edward Oliver who won both first and second prizes, his choice of two framed paintings, and Ted Ek who chose three record albums as his award.

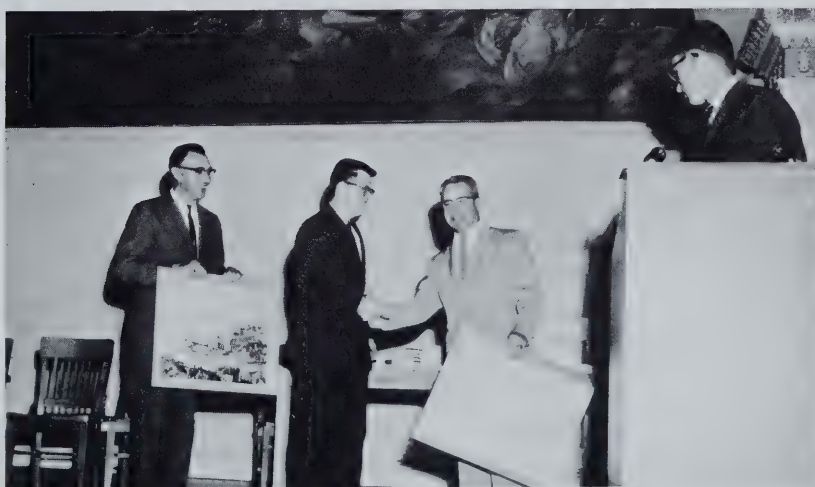

The records, some stereo and some hi fidelity, consisted of Classical and Folk selections. One of the interested customers, Shirley Horowitz looks over the many record albums.

As was expected, the sale of the brush stroke prints went over very well. Gayle Lotterman and Andrea Michaelman are looking several over, trying to decide which one to buy.

The Art Club presented Mr. Montagna, our new principal, and Mr. Freme our assistant principal with paintings of their choice. Mr. Montagna seems pleased with Harbor at Lyon. Evidently John Houlihan's presentation to Mr. Freme of Winter Landscape has brought pleasure too. Thomas Nadolski, Art Club president, announced the gifts.

CHRISTMAS TEA

On December 20, 1962 the Annual Alumni Tea was held. This social function was sponsored by the William C. Hill Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Two hundred and fifty invitations were sent out and almost all attended. The students of Classical and the faculty served refreshments during which the students had an opportunity to obtain more information concerning the different colleges from another student's point of view.

The many students who participated in this event did an excellent job in making it a complete success.

Classical graduates Raymond Lapine, Judith Denault, Ellen Dee Baker, David Belding, Russell Coon, (seated) Linda Diamond, Peter Masuck, and Thomas Nadolski compare college experiences. The Christmas Tea gave them an opportunity to learn what their former classmates are doing now.

and reflect on days spent at Classical and beyond

Mr. Montagna greets former Classicalites Eric Vinton, Terry Zick, Bruce Kenney, and Richard Lagasse who have returned to tell Classical students about the academic and social life at various colleges.

Miss Corcoran serves punch to graduates Lois Cantor and Robert Hawley. Seniors Joyce Widland, Karen Lavin, Barbara Jean Kubik, and Susan Webber mingle with Classical graduates.

Mr. Freeme, Gail Solin, and Janie Wallach (second from right) question Francine Uretsky (center) as Andrey Giustina looks on.

H. Howard Lynch has awarded prizes to Alex McCarthy, Joseph Gervasini, Gary Mullet, Susan Dodge and Bruce Devens.

Gary Mullet, grade 10, received a second prize in the field of physics for his project Ultrasonic Sound.

Joseph Gervasini, grade 11, received a third prize in the field of physics for his project: Wheatstone Bridge.

brings forth young scientists

Susan Dodge, grade 11, received a first prize in the chemistry division for her project: Acids and Bases.

Bruce Devens, grade 11, captured a first for his physics project: Spectrum Analysis.

Alex McCarthy, grade 11, took a first for his mathematics project: Relativity.

Classical music highlights parade and festival

Two outstanding events which sparked our band and music ensembles were the St. Patrick's Day Parade and All-State Festival. The Classical High School Band performed remarkably well for the 12th annual St. Patrick's Day Parade held in Holyoke on March 17. The band was the first school band to appear in the parade. Overenthusiastic by the playing of "It's a Great Day for the Irish," some spectators sang and danced as the band came marching by. The parade commentator Rollie Jacobs of Channel 22 spoke very highly of the "lively and colorful Classical Band." Moreover, Mr. Vincent O'Keeffe, band director, was quite proud of the band's performance. In the St. Patrick's Day Parade of 1962, the band received a large trophy for the most "outstanding unit" in the parade.

At the All-State convention held Friday night, March 22, at the Sheraton-Kimball Hotel, the Classical Woodwind Quintet, Madrigal, and Brass Ensemble performed for music educators from all over the state of Massachusetts. The purpose of the concert was to display the transition of musical abilities in students from the elementary to the high school level. The concert was well received, and the Classical Woodwind Quintet was reviewed highly in the local newspaper. The newspaper critic expressed an interest in ensemble work and compared it to the stress which Eric Leinsdorff, conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, is putting on ensemble work at the Berkshire Center this summer.

The Classical Woodwind Quintet was one of the many instrumental groups which performed for the All-State Festival: Gilbert Vickers, Peter Cokkinias, Gene Fantl, Adele Newman, and Theodore Fantl.

Carol Lord receives a citation

Mr. Bongiovanni, Carol Lord and Mr. Montagna

The Massachusetts Secondary School Principals' Association, together with the Massachusetts Department of Education presented to Carol Lord a citation honoring her for her outstanding service to the Teen Age Program of the March of Dimes. The citation, awarded Sept. 26, 1962, by Mr. Lawrence M. Bongiovanni, feted Carol "in recognition of significant service to the community . . . and for the furtherance of the principle that responsibility is the price of freedom."

Carol's formidable service to the March of Dimes was justifiably honored by this award, which climaxed an extremely active career in the affairs of the March of Dimes in both Hampden County and the state. Serving as chairman of the Hampden County division during 1961-1962, she organized an enormously lucrative and well attended dance at the Municipal Auditorium, as well as a street sale in downtown Springfield, whose combined profits earned well over $3000 for the National Foundation.

During 1962-1963, her duties were multiplied as a result of her appointment to the state chairmanship of the March of Dimes Teen Age Program. This year's project, a general auction at the Municipal Auditorium, brought an additional $5000 into the treasury of the March of Dimes principally as a result of the efforts of Carol Lord. This year, with the assistance of Mark Lediard, Classical High School March of Dimes chairman, Carol has interested several freshmen in the Teen Age Program in hopes that they will continue serving the National Foundation in the name of Classical High School.

Juniors participate in National Merit Program

The lucky seven National Merit Scholarship finalists are Douglas Clark, Richard Marcuson, Robert Hammer, Joyce Widland, Peter DeBarger, Stephen Kutner, and Barry Chase.

Each year high school juniors are eligible to participate in the National Merit Program. High scores enable them to enter into the semi-finals where they must fill three requirements:

- 1) They must complete a biographical statement with a school recommendation which is sent in.
- 2) Their scores on the second examination must substantiate their previous marks.
- 3) They also have to, with their parents, submit a financial form.

Our seven juniors have fulfilled all these requirements and are now (seniors) finalists. On April 25, 1963, they will be notified if they are to receive a National Merit Scholarship.

Classical's Mathletes and "Scribblers"

MATHLETES

Classical's Mathletes: (seated) Stephen Kutner, Cynthia Pease, Sharlene Katz, and Mr. Andrews; (standing) Christopher Scott, Carl Widland, Robert Hammer, John Elliot, Peter Krause, and Douglas Clark.

Organized two years ago by twelve Western Massachusetts high schools, both public and private, the Western Massachusetts Interscholastic Mathematic League, whose participants are known as Mathletes, was founded for the purpose of stimulating interest in mathematics in the high schools.

Contenders are chosen on the basis of their school mathematics records, and seniors are naturally given precedence in consideration.

Mathletes meet in competition with all member schools four times a year in Springfield or its outlying districts. Five sets of timed questions are submitted to the schools by an impartial person, often someone out of state. Each school has a team of five, but the squad may run as high as twenty and teams may change after the meet, questions are corrected by the advisers and team and individual scores are compiled.

At the end of the year the winner is chosen, and an award is presented to the school. Presently there are no individual awards, but the question is up for debate.

Last year Classical placed third in competition under the direction of Mr. Andrewes, but at present Classical is in the lead.

Reading articles, editing them, laying out pages, making posters, selling magazines — all these and more were the tasks of the "scribblers," the staff members of the Scribe. These faithful workers, members of Miss Virginia Mills' 11h English class, have spent long hours putting together a magazine containing the best short stories, poems, and essays which Classical students had to offer. The activities of the "scribblers" have been supervised by co-editors-in-chief Peter Krause and John Thomas and adviser, Miss Mills. The magazine is in its second year of publication.

Mary McCabe holds announcement of forthcoming issue of the Scribe. By the pleased expression of (seated) Mary Ellen Quirk, Beth Cohn, (standing) Margaret Sheldon, Peter Krause, Jean Constantino, and John Thomas the copy will be excellent.

As Schools Match Wits

Classical Wits: Christopher Scott, Stephen Kutner, Alexander Mironoff, John Lyons, and Elizabeth Freedman.

Classical is very proud of the achievements of its As Schools Match Wits team. The students on the team were seniors Richard Marcuson, captain, and Elizabeth Freedman and juniors, John Lyons and Alexander Mironoff. Alternates were Stephen Kutner, a senior, and Christopher Scott, a junior.

Last fall, the National Honor Society invited all school organizations to submit candidates for the competition in order to select a team to represent Classical on the WWLP, channel 22, television program As Schools Match Wits. The final selection of the team was based on a written examination of general knowledge which was administered to all the contestants and on a poll taken by the faculty.

Classical's first match, which was against Northampton High School, was a very spirited game from which Classical emerged the champion by fifty-five points.

In their second match, Classical was victor over Our Lady of Monadnock Academy from New Hampshire.

With their third foe, Amherst Regional High School, Classical met with a struggle all the way. Amherst, leading throughout most of the game by about 50 points, looked like a sure victor. However, the Classical team would not yield, and with one minute remaining, Classical came from behind to win by ten points, 160-150.

Classical, after three victories, needed one more win to retire as undefeated champions. Meeting newcomers from Greenfield High School, Classical took an early lead to defeat Greenfield 190-105.

If no other team has won four games in a row as Classical has done, then Classical will be hailed as the undisputed champion. However, if another team does meet with this success, it will meet Classical in June for a play-off. The championship team will be awarded prizes.

Farewell, Mr. Freme

When to the sessions of sweet silent thought
I summon up remembrance of things past,
I sigh the lack of many a thing I sought,
And with old woes new wail my dear time's waste:
Then can I drown an eye, unused to flow,
For precious friends hid in death's dateless night,
And weep afresh love's long-since cancell'd woe,
And moan the expense of many a vanish'd sight:
Then can I grieve at grievances foregone,
And heavily from woe to woe tell o'er
The sad account of fore-bemoaned moan,
Which I now pay as if not paid before.
But if the while I think on thee, dear friend,
All losses are restor'd, and sorrows end.

— William Shakespeare

After serving as assistant principal at Classical for two years, Mr. Freme went to Buckingham Junior High School as principal. Mr. Freme's appreciation of the abilities and problems of Classical students like Karen Magnani and Bruce Meisner who are talking to him here has made them regard him as a true friend who is sincerely interested in his duties.

Many students who attended Forest Junior High School have gone through their whole secondary school career without any other assistant principal than Mr. Freme. To these students, his departure will be an especial loss.

Classical will miss Mr. Freme but knows that he will make an excellent principal at Buckingham.

A TELEPHONE JOB

OFFERS BOTH CAREER

---

AND SOCIAL SATISFACTION

WITHOUT BREAKING STRIDE,

why not graduate from high school to the Telephone Company? You'll love the friendly young people who'll work with you, and the many social activities that make your work so pleasant and rewarding.

OPPORTUNITY IS EXCELLENT

and your ability will be recognized. Your starting salary should climb with regular increases. And, of course, Company benefits, security, and regular advancement are well-known reasons why working for the Telephone Company is so attractive to graduates.

TELEPHONE JOBS ARE IMPORTANT,

vital to the effective communications of the community, the nation, and the world. When you take your place as a respected member of the telephone community, we'll train you, on full salary, even without previous job experience.

Why not come and see our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.
